STARVING RUSS HORDE MARCHING ON MOSCOW

Aged Woman Slain by Sinn Feiners

WIDOW OF CORK JUSTICE OF THE PEACE KIDNAPED AND EXECUTED AS A SPY

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, July 29.—Mrs. J. W. Lindsay, 60 years old, wife of a Cork landowner and justice of the peace, who was kidnaped from her home in Coachford in February, last, by three armed men, was executed as a spy, according to information received this evening by the Dail Eireann authorities.

The announcement of the kidnaping of Mrs. Lindsay was contained in a London dispatch of February 18 last. Her house, a large country estate, was burned. The supposition was advanced that Sinn Feiners were responsible for kidnaping and the burning, having been suspicious that Mrs. Lindsay had given information to the police concerning ambuscades that were being laid in Dripsey.

In March, Maj.-Gen. Sir Edward Strickland, commander of the troops in Munster, received a letter from Mrs. Lindsay in which she appealed for aid.

Nothing had been heard of her since. Only last week her sister issued an appeal through the Irish newspapers on her behalf.

WRITS FOR GENERALS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

DUBLIN, July 29.—Writs of attachment, calling for the apprehension of Gen. Sir Nevil MacReady, commander of the British troops in Ireland, and Maj.-Gen. Sir Edward P. Strickland, commander in Munster, were issued today by the master o fthe rolls. Sergt. Hanna, attorney for Gen. MacReady and Gen. Strickland, and also for the governor of Limerick jail, for whom a similar writ was issued, announced that a notice of an appeal against the decision of the master of rolls would be lodged with the House of Lords.

The case had its origin in the failure of those against whom the writs were issued to comply with proceedings in habeas corpus to produce John Eagan, under sentence of death by a military court in Limerick, in court today. Sergt. Hanna told the master of the rolls that he had been instructed by Gen. MacReady to inform the court that, pending a final hearing on the appeal, the sentences of death against Eagan and another prisoner named Higgins would not be executed.

The master of the rolls, however, declined to listen to Sergt. Hanna. He declared the case represented deliberate contempt of court, unprecedented in the whole history of British law, and ordered the writs of attachment issued.

Uncertainty prevails here as to the next step in the case. Dublin is not under martial law, and it is therefore presumed that Gen. MacReady, who is now in London, and the others against whom the writs were issued, are liable to arrest.

While the writs have been issued, no arrests are expected. The contention of the military authorities is that they acted not under the ordinary law, but under martial law, which they claim superseded the civil jurisdiction. The case follows the historic precedent in the case of Wolfe Tone, the Irish revolutionist, who was captured on a French squadron on its way to Ireland in 1798 and sentenced to death.

The Evening Telegraph says Ragan no longer is in Limerick Jail.

NORTHCLIFFE RETALIATES

Denies Interview to King.

Government Declares It Did Not Order Cancellation of Embassy Dinner.

New York Paper Printed Mooted Story, Says Steed Made Statements.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Lord Northcliffe, the most widely known newspaper publisher of the British Isles, left Washington tonight after a two-day visit without having been entertained at the British embassy and without having received from embassy officials any of those attentions usually accorded by foreign diplomats to distinguished fellow-countrymen.

Both embassy officials and Lord Northcliffe maintained silence today with regard to the withdrawal of invitations extended the publisher to stop at the embassy while in Washington and to attend a dinner which was to have been given in his honor there last night.

GUEST AT DINNER.

Despite the withdrawal of the dinner invitations, Lord Northcliffe was understood to have met, at a dinner given tonight by Mrs. E. B. McLean, wife of the Washington publisher, most of the guests he would have met at the proposed embassy dinner. Sir Auckland Geddes, the British Ambassador and a personal friend of the Viscount, was understood to have been there.

The list of those present was withheld.

The single new development here today in the controversy between Lord Northcliffe and Lord Curzon and also Premier Lloyd George, was a reply by the publisher to the statement read in the House of Commons by Premier Lloyd George and authorized by King George. The reply made in the form of a cablegram sent to Lord Stamfordham, private secretary to the King was made public as follows:

"Please convey to His Majesty with my humble duty my denial of ever having ascribed to His Majesty the word or words as stated by the Prime Minister today. I gave no such interview."

STARTS WEST TODAY.

Leaving here tonight after the McLean dinner Lord Northcliffe will arrive early tomorrow in New York and after spending the day there will depart for Vancouver, B. C., by way of Toronto. He will board ship at Vancouver for his trip to Australia, New Zealand, China, Japan, the Philippines and India.

The Viscount spent a busy day in Washington today. He was entertained at luncheon by the overseas writers, an organization of American newspaper men who have done work abroad, and late in the day joined the regular working newspaper men of the Capitol at President Harding's semiweekly conference.

The British publisher showed great interest in the President's talk with the newspaper men, but asked no questions of Mr. Harding. Later the Viscount in the heavy rain, went to the Capitol and visited the Senate press gallery. The Senate

CURB FEES IN SURGERY.

Most Doctors Say It's All Wrong.

Some Claim They'll Carve You for Nothing if You Haven't Got the Price.

Limit Placed by Hospital in East Causes Those Who Soak Rich to Shudder.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, July 29.—Chicago physicians and surgeons were a unit today in asserting that the dictum of the board of trustees of Johns Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore was wrong, as regards the maximum fee of $1000 established for a major operation.

The hospital board of trustees practically decreed that the fees charged in the big hospital should be limited to $1000 for operation, and $35 a week for hospital attendance.

"Very well and good," said Dr. Carl B. Davis, of the Presbyterian Hospital. "Only, I think it would be fair to apply the same limit to banks, corporation lawyers and specialists in other lines of business.

"Each patient is charged according to his ability to pay. There are a great many charity patients who can obtain treatment only because of the fees paid by some man who is able to meet them."

Dr. Louis D. Smith, head of the special committee of the Chicago Medical Society, which advocated a credit rating bureau for patients, talked along much the same lines.

CALLS LIMIT UNJUST.

"I don't think the operating fee limit is a just one," he said. "You have to take the financial status of the patient into consideration."

The $35 a week limitation for hospital attendance, Dr. Smith thought, was just, as did Dr. William F. Harpel of the advisory board of Hahnemann Hospital.

Dr. C. P. Stringfield likewise was opposed to the $1000 limitation for major operations.

"The physician's status today has changed greatly. Years ago his wife kept boarders to make both ends meet. Now he has to maintain an office, live in a high-class neighborhood and own an automobile to call on his patients.

"If he does not maintain a certain high standing in the social scale, he doesn't get patients."

Other physicians were even more emphatic. Surgeons of national reputation, who make their homes in Baltimore and some of whom are connected directly with Johns Hopkins medical school and Hospital are more or less agitated over action of the Hopkins board in limiting fees to $1000 for operations. Several of these surgeons have been making from $100,000 to $200,000 a year and are near-millionaires.

In the opinion of one of the best known medical men of the city, who declined to permit use of his name, Hopkins' new rule will tend to drive the wealthy class of patients from Hopkins and probably weaken its staff.

FEW "MAJOR OFFENDERS."

Only a very small group of men, three or four or at most five at Hopkins, it is said, are "major offenders"

OKLAHOMA PRISONERS IN RIOTING.

One Killed, Factory is Wrecked and Guards Injured in Revenge Outburst.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

McALESTER (Okla.) July 29.—One convict was killed, the shirt factory was practically wrecked, and several guards were slightly injured in a riot which broke out in the shirt factory at the State penitentiary this afternoon.

Mack Whitehead, life-termer, from Pittsburg county, was killed when he attempted to rush guards.

George Perry, guard, was hit over the head and stunned and A. R. Cummings, engineer, was hurt by a blow over the back.

The determination of the convicts to break up the shirt factory was hatched several days ago, according to prison authorities. With one accord they began to wreck the machinery, break out the windows and attack the guards.

Calls for help brought armed guards. The life-termer, who was killed, drew a knife and made a rush. One shot was fired, dropping him instantly.

A. R. Garrett, deputy warden of the penitentiary, declared that the convicts made no attempt to escape and seemed bent on destroying the shirt plant which was recently installed.

Many of the prisoners backed to the wall, refusing to join the rioting. Order was restored in about twenty minutes.

ACCOMPLISHMENT TOLD.

White House Statement Shows How Administration Has Aided Finances.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The accomplishment of the administration toward relief of financial conditions is reviewed at length in a statement issued today from the White House declaring that the work done in that direction during the last four months constitutes "an achievement of the largest importance to the country."

In support of this assertion the statement points to, and discusses at length the recent reduction of discount rates by Federal Reserve banks, steps taken by the Treasury toward refunding the national debt; the resumption of active operation by the War Finance Corporation; efforts toward final settlement of the railroad problem; extension of relief to agriculture and the live-stock industry, and various other items of the administration's financial policy.

"It is unsafe," said the statement, "to prophesy concerning conditions in the future, but it may be expected that recognition will be given to further improvements in accordance with the dictates of sound banking practice."

The statement pointed to successive reductions in rediscount rates, by the Federal reserve banks, and added:

"It will not have escaped attention that the rates of discount of the Bank of England have also been successfully reduced, and that these reductions have been substantially coincident with the reductions in Federal reserve rates in this country. This would appear to be a frank recognition of the intimate relation between the money markets in this country and Europe, and a recognition as well of the improvement in world credit conditions. The importance of coincident reduction by these two leading banking systems lies chiefly in the fact that it indicated a mutual desire to reopen the international channels of credit upon which international trade depends.

"The treasury on its part has, during the past four months, successfully inaugurated its new policy of refunding the short-dated debt of the government and distributing the early maturities over the period between the maturity of

MAYFLOWER SAILS FOR PLYMOUTH.

Speaks at Pilgrim Celebration Monday, Then Goes to New Hampshire.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—President Harding left Washington late today on the Presidential yacht Mayflower for an absence of more than a week, most of which will be spent resting in the White Mountains of New Hampshire.

The first stop will be made Monday at Plymouth, Mass., where the President is to deliver an address at the tercentenary of the landing of the Pilgrims. He expects to arrive Tuesday by automobile at Lancaster, N. H., where he will be the guest of Secretary of War Weeks.

Mrs. Harding, apparently completely recovered from the slight indisposition which had kept her in the White House for the last few days, accompanied the President. Also in the Mayflower party were Speaker and Mrs. Gillett, Senator and Mrs. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, Senator Hale of Maine, Senator and Mrs. Phipps of Colorado, Secretary Weeks, Representative and Mrs. Walsh of Massachusetts, Brig.-Gen. Sawyer, the President's physician, and George B. Christian, Jr., his secretary.

Making the trip by way of the Cape Cod Canal the Mayflower is expected to arrive off Plymouth about 9 o'clock Monday morning.

The President will review a parade before delivering his address late in the afternoon and during the evening will witness a pageant. He will go aboard the Mayflower again late Monday night and reach Portland, Me., on Tuesday. From that point he will go by automobile to Lancaster.

A convoy of battleships and destroyers will pick up the Mayflower at Hampton Roads and accompany her to Plymouth.

FOREST AIR PATROL IS BROKE, IDLE

Lack Funds to Try Gas; Service in Oregon is Ordered Discontinued.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The United States Forest Service air patrol is idle throughout California today on account of the shortage of funds to purchase gasoline for the Army airplanes employed, Maj. H. H. Arnold, chief of the Army Air Service here, announced today. About thirty airplanes are effected.

Maj. Arnold said he did not know how soon the situation would be relieved.

MEDFORD (Or.) July 29.—According to officials of the local forest fire air patrol, an order has been received to discontinue all air patrol services in the State for the time being. No reasons for the order are given.

RED ARMY OVERWHELMED; SOVIET REGIME NEAR END; HUNGRY KILL, EAT HORSES

BY JOSEPH SHAPLEN.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, July 29.—Six million hungry and ragged peasants are marching on Moscow, according to Izvestia, official Bolshevik newspaper in the capital. The vanguard of these starving hordes has reached Tamboff and, maddened by hunger, has overwhelmed the Red army detachments stationed in that city, looted all the stores and warehouses, seized every morsel of food and even killed and devoured the horses belonging to the city's fire department.

Soviets Said to be Preparing Answer Declaring Willingness to Meet Conditions.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, July 29.—The soviets are preparing an answer to Secretary of Commerce Hoover thanking him for his offer to care for 1,000,000 children, declaring their willingness to free American prisoners immediately. The most reliable sources say the Russian answer will contain minor provisions seeking counter concessions, such as release of certain "political prisoners in American jails."

According to advices from Prague, Bohemia, which are regarded with great skepticism in authoritative circles here, the Bolshevik government in Moscow has expressed its readiness to abdicate in favor of a ministry composed of Socialists, social revolutionaries and mensheviki. The report adds that certain Socialist and revolutionist leaders in Prague have gone to the Russian frontier believing that the downfall of the Lenin-Trotsky regime is imminent.

Izvestia admits that the Red guard at Tamboff refused to fire on the mobs.

Similar incidents have occurred at Yaroslav and Niji Novgorod.

REDS PANIC-STRICKEN.

Panic-stricken by the advance of this titanic human avalanche toward Moscow the Soviet War Commissariat is rapidly forming special bodies of shock troops consisting of sharpshooters and cavalry for the defense of Moscow and Petrograd. The only persons admitted to these bodies are able-bodied young men, who have passed through the special military and political courses established by Minister of War Trotzky. Special Communist detachments formed of only tried and true Communists are being formed for the defense of other leading cities and the protection of the railway junction at Kiev. These detachments are being placed under the authority of provincial extraordinary commissions.

Many workers are reported to have been killed or wounded in a labor demonstration in Petrograd in which 3000 workingmen and women advanced on the offices of the Petrograd soviet demanding bread.

REPLIED WITH CAVALRY.

The reply of the Red officials was to meet the assembled proletarians with several squadrons of Kirgis cavalry, who fired into the crowds. In the panic that ensued, the laborers broke ranks and fled leaving their dead and wounded in front of the soviet building. A protest strike was started in the Baltic and Putiloff

GREAT CITIES RAZED BY AIR BOMBS—IN THEORY.

Fifty-one Planes Hover Over Washington and New York, Dropping Imaginary Missiles on People.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—New York and Washington today in theory were bombed off the map, following in the wake of Norfolk, Newport News and Richmond. Philadelphia is due for a theoretical bombing Monday.

The fate of the various cities was made known today by Brig.-Gen. Mitchell, assistant chief of the Army Air Service, when he stepped from his plane after leading three squadrons of seventeen bombers on an aerial attack against New York. A simultaneous attack on Washington by seventy machines had been ordered.

All these air raids are part of a war problem which Army aviators are working out after having participated in the recent bombing of former German war craft off the Virginia Capes. The planes came up the coast from Langley Field, Va.

Seventy men were assigned to the New York attacking party. Weather conditions were ideal.

The haze that hung over the land made observation of the planes flying at 8000 feet virtually impossible, and officers declared the planes could have bombed away without fear of a successful counter-attack from ground antiaircraft guns.

After the forts had been put out of action, the squadrons swooped down to 4000 feet and flew over Wall street. The Subtreasury was their chief "target."

Although curious New Yorkers never knew it, thousands of them were slain—always theoretically—and scarcely a building was left standing in the financial district. The aviators declared they had opened the way for a hostile force to steam into the harbor and seize the city.

PROCLAIM PEACE, IS PLAN NOW.

Action May be Taken by Harding Within Ten Days, is Report.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—A proclamation of peace between the United States and the Central Powers of Europe may be issued by the President within the next ten days.

It was indicated at the White House today that the President was much nearer a decision on this issue than was generally expected. Although Atty.-Gen. Daugherty has not given the President an opinion as yet on the necessity for a proclamation following adoption of the peace resolution by Congress, it is understood that the President has come to the conclusion that the proclamation should be issued.

The Attorney-General said recently that he did not expect to deliver an opinion until after the President returns from his New England vacation ten days hence. The President, when informed of this, is said to have remarked good naturedly that he did not want to appear to be taking issue with his Attorney-General but that he believed he would have the opinion earlier than that time.

The President also let it be known that he might not wait until he returns to Washington to issue the proclamation.

PLEAD FOR TAX CUTS.

Industries Seek to Ease Burden.

Motion Picture Producers Are Hard Hit, Statement of William A. Brady.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Hearings on tax legislation were ended by the House Ways and Means Committee today after representatives of the motion picture, fur and other industries had appeared to urge the repeal of the special taxes applying to them.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair will meet with the Republican members of the committee on Monday, Chairman Fordney announced. Mr. Fordney expressed the belief that about three weeks would be required to prepare the revenue bill. This will mean the passage by the House about the end of August.

Representative Tilson of Connecticut, one of the Republican members of the committee, urged today that the Senate combine the tax and tariff bills and enact them into law as one measure.

AMUSEMENT BUSINESS HIT.

Representative of the motion-picture industry indicated that the business depression has hit the amusement business. William A. Brady, Saul Rogers and others on behalf of the industry urged the repeal of the film tax, the seating tax applying to theaters and the admission tax. They declared that business has fallen off to such an extent as to cause a curtailment in salaries of the moving-picture stars.

"Ninety per cent of the actors of the country now are walking the streets," said Brady. "Only one movie producer was able to pay a dividend last year. High salaries have disappeared.

"It was mainly the inability of the producers to pay the salaries demanded by the stars that caused them to organize their own production company. The day of the Pickford, Fairbanks and Chaplin salaries has passed.

TELLS OF CHAPLIN SALARY.

"The depression and the high taxes have hit hardest the smaller theaters in the little town. There the people are refusing to accept the cheap one-reel films."

Mr. Brady said that the salary of Charles Chaplin in one year was $1,200,000, including royalties, while the producers made $1,500,000 selling the films.

Mr. Rogers said that 4000 moving-picture houses throughout the country have closed their doors and that only one company in the East is producing pictures and the California production is only about 30 per cent normal.

The National Manufacturers' Association urged repeal of the excess profits tax and the higher brackets in the surtax, substituting a general turnover or sales tax, while representatives of the fur industry asked repeal or modification of the tax on their products.

TAX ON PATH CHECKS.

Representative Appleby, Republican, New Jersey, argued in favor of his bills to impose a 2-cent stamp tax on bath checks, to repeal the soda water tax and to levy a Federal tax of 4 cents a horsepower on passenger automobiles and $1 a ton on trucks, with a proportion of this to go to the States in lieu of the present State taxes. He also asked for a simplification of the income tax sheets.

Opposing repeal of the excess profits tax and the higher rate of surtax, Charles A Lyman, secretary of the national board of farm organizations, said there was a feeling on the part of the farmers that some plan should be worked out under which the vast accumulation of wealth should bear a large part of the tax burden.

LONDON NOT SURPRISED.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, July 29.—The Foreign Office expressed no surprise today when it learned that Ambassador Geddes in Washington had canceled the proposed dinner to Lord Northcliffe, in view of the language Lord Northcliffe had used toward Lord Curzon, the Ambassador's own chief.

It was officially denied, however, that Lord Curzon had coerced the Washington embassy or in any way influenced the decision to cancel the function.

STEED GAVE INTERVIEW.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—It was not Lord Northcliffe, but his London Times editor, H. Wickham Steed, who gave out the Irish question interview which prompted Lloyd George to read to Parliament today, a statement of denial from the King.

The interview, to which the British Premier and King took offense was originally printed in the New York Times Monday morning, and parts of it were cabled to Britain by New York correspondents of the British newspapers.

Steed is visiting this country with Lord Northcliffe.

After quoting Steed as saying that "King George had played a very active part in bringing about a settlement of the Irish question and went over to Belfast with that intention," the interview in the New York Times goes on:

QUOTED CONVERSATION.

"It is not generally known that, under the constitutional form of government the King has still a good deal of power when he chooses to use it. In this case he has done so with good effect. At the last meeting he had with Lloyd George before leaving for Ireland, the King asked him, 'Are you going to shoot all the people in Ireland?' 'No, your Majesty,' the Prime Minister replied. 'Well, then,' said the King, 'you must come to some agreement with them. This thing cannot go on. I cannot have my people killed in this manner.'

"King George went to Ireland intending to make his own speech just as his uncle, the Duke of Connaught, did last year in India. The King spoke as the head of the British Empire and not as King of England or of Ireland. He got under the skin of the Irish people by his generosity, and that is what gave them confidence in the peace overtures, which they would not have felt in the Lloyd George Cabinet without his backing.

KING SAW SMUTS.

"It was the King, too, who saw Smuts and got him interested in the Irish question. I know that the latter had a great deal to do with winning over the Sinn Feiners to the idea of a conference and making peace with England without separation from the empire. He told them what he knew about the ideal republican government, and that they were just as well off with the constitutional form of government in Great Britain under their own local management.

"When King George sailed for Ireland the Cabinet tried to spike his efforts by making speeches in the Lords and Commons three hours afterwards which were intended to irritate the Irish people. This annoyed the English people very much and when the King returned he had the biggest reception outside of Buckingham Palace he had ever received since the war began in August, 1914.

CROWN NOT MENTIONED.

"I notice," continued Steed, "that the crown is not mentioned in the terms purported to have been offered to De Valera for the Irish people. That may mean the oath of allegiance to King George may not have to be taken by the members of the Parliament when it meets in Dublin, as that was always the stumbling block years ago. The King has probably said to the Cabinet, 'I trust them.'

"The people of England want to see Ireland happy and prosperous, but they would not stand by and see Ulster coerced. There must be every guarantee for religious liberty in Ireland."

The New York Times' article concludes with an interview with Lord Northcliffe commenting on the Irish situation, but does not credit him in any way with the statements credited to him from British sources, particularly the King's statement.

back to the Navy by the War Department, within a short time to a navy yard on the Atlantic Coast for minor repairs and such alterations as will fit her to be a flagship. Until she is ready for service, Admiral Jones will use the battleship Wyoming as his flagship.

The decision to use the Great Northern as a flagship was said at the Navy Department to be based on her speed, which is somewhat greater than that of a battleship, and her more commodious quarters for an admiral and his large staff. As the Great Northern is not armored and will not be armed, it is presumed she will serve as a peace-time flagship only.

PREPARE FOR DIRIGIBLE TRIP.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, July 29.—Lieut. Clifford A. Tinker, U.S.N., has arrived here and is arranging with the Air Ministry the plans to keep the United States and Great Britain informed of the experiences of the big dirigible airship R.R.-2, formerly the R.-38, which has been purchased by the United States Navy from Great Britain, during its flight to America. The start of the flight is expected to take place in the middle of September.

Many aviators, magazine writers and other persons have sought permission to take part in the voyage across the Atlantic, but Secretary of the Navy Denby has cabled that no correspondent or any "nonmilitary passengers will be permitted on the trip."

ENEMY'S FORCE WINS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, July 29.—After long argument by the umpires, Commander Towers, commanding the Pacific Air force, today announced that the "enemy" force won in a simulated attack by air and sea against San Diego on Thursday. The "enemy" consisted of a mine sweeper, a submarine chaser and several fast battle planes. The defending force consisted of slow bombers with fast pursuit planes as an escort. The bombers, it is announced, did not follow instructions, left their escort and laid themselves open to sudden attack and defeat by the fast battle planes escorting the seacraft.

Officers say that the maneuvers, although not wholly satisfactory, have proved to be of much value in training of pilots, bombers and observers.

JOHNS HOPKINS TO CURB FEES.

where the matter of exorbitant fees is concerned. One of these is reported to charge $5000 for serious operations on people whose income ranges from $500,000 to $1,000,000 a year.

This is a maximum and his rate grades downward in accordance with the means of the patient.

It is declared that this surgeon has been making at least $250,000 a year.

Judge Harlan, president of Hopkins' board of trustees, today admitted that some wealthy persons had resented high fees charged them just because they were rich and that Hopkins Hospital was associated with their resentment.

Somewhat Reticent.

Local physicians were somewhat reticent about comparing prices with Baltimore doctors, and referred inquiries to Dr. Harlan Shoemaker, secretary of the Los Angeles County Medical Society, who expressed the opinion that the fee bills in this county are lower than they are at various places in the East.

"Referring to the $1000 maximum for a major operation, I should say that Los Angeles surgeons are rather moderate in their charges," said he. "My private opinion is that about $250 is the average charge for an abdominal operation here. It is quite likely that fees in Baltimore are 50 per cent higher than they are here.

"As for a $35 a week maximum for taking care of a patient in the hospital, practically all the physicians I know make no charge for calling at the hospital and looking after the welfare of patients upon whom they perform operations. The lump sum paid as a fee generally covers hospital attendance until recovery.

TWO SCALES OF FEES.

"In this city and county we have two fees for hospital calls. One is the Los Angeles County Medical Society bill of $5 per day or $21 a week, and the other is a $2 a day fee allowed by the workingmen's compensation insurance plan. I doubt if the common, garden variety of doctor gets any of the enormous fees we occasionally hear about."

Dr. Ralph Hagan, a prominent surgeon, says he bases his fees for major operations on the basis of one-twelfth of the patient's annual income, and does his work gratuitously in cases where the patient earns a modest salary.

"If my patient happens to earn $10,000 to $12,000 a year I may drop into the $1000 class now and then for a major operation," says Dr. Hagan, "but if the patient happens to earn $1500 to $1800 a year then I do the work without charge, and do it gladly, feeling that I am compensated by the knowledge that I am able to be of service to suffering humanity."

Put Discriminatory Duty on Foreign Bottoms.

Shipping Board to Support New Legislation.

Commercial Treaties Will be Voided by Congress.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Vessels under the American flag are to be more popular for cargo purposes than ever before if plans of the Shipping Board and members of the Senate and House develop into legislation which will make them save money for importers of merchandise from abroad. There has been in the last tariffs of the country—the Payne-Aldrich and the Underwood measures—a provision that there shall be a discriminatory duty against imported goods brought in ships not of American registry. This provision has been a dead letter, for twenty-six countries have had, and now have, commercial treaties with the United States, which void this provision of an extra tariff on goods brought to this country in foreign ships.

The Shipping Board is going after trade. They want the discriminatory duty cut from 10 to 5 per cent and they want all these commercial treaties which have neutralized this discrimination in the past denounced and nullified by specific act of Congress.

WILSON DECLINED TO ACT.

President Wilson was invited to do this but declined and now both the Shipping Board officials and Senators of the merchant marine vision desire to make this action certain and to that effect Senator Jones of Washington, chairman of the Senate Committee on Commerce, has introduced an amendment to the present pending tariff bill, which, if adopted, would put an end to all these treaties and make a duty of 5 per cent effective against importation in vessels of foreign countries over the same goods brought in American vessels.

Senator Jones's amendment has been urged by the chairman of the Shipping Board as a wedge by which American ships can successfully compete with foreign vessels, and get a share of the world's carrying business.

TEXT OF AMENDMENT.

Senator Jones's amendment reads as follows:

"Hereafter all goods, wares and merchandise imported in vessels other than vessels of the United States shall be subject to a duty of 5 per centum ad valorem in excess of the duties herein imposed, and all goods, wares and merchandise, excepting tea and coffee, so imported, which are otherwise admitted free, under this act shall pay a duty of 2 per centum ad valorem; provided, that the foregoing provisions shall not go into effect as to goods, wares and merchandise if imported in the vessels of those nations with which we have treaties, and said provisions contravene, until the expiration of one year from the date when this act becomes a law, at which time said treaties are hereby declared to be duly abrogated unless the same are sooner abrogated by notice given by the President, under the terms of such treaties."

the Victory Loan in 1923 and the Third Liberty Loan in 1928. The first offering of treasury notes pursuant to this policy met with a most enthusiastic response, and the further development of the program should bring about a better distribution of the public debt and much improved market conditions for government securities. There has already been a marked improvement in the market prices of Liberty Bonds and Victory notes, and the market for all outstanding issues of short-term government securities is in better shape than at any time since the depression."

The work of the revived War Finance Corporation, the statement said, has been according to many confidences received, an inspiriting and heartening factor in the whole agricultural situation.

Referring to the President's proposal that the powers of the War Finance Corporation be extended to allow it to purchase railroad securities from the railroad administration in order to finance the settlements by that administration, the statement said it was expected that the intervention of the finance corporation in railroad finances, "will again have a beneficial effect on general railroad credit and also that the corporation will again be able to secure the whole-hearted cooperation of the bankers of the country in developing the market for railroad securities.

"Speaking in the broadest way," the statement concluded, "it is felt that the series of measures mentioned constitute a truly constructive effort for the amelioration of business and financial conditions and there are already many evidences of beneficial effects. With a generally excellent agricultural production now assured for the season, there is every reason for confidence that a steady improvement of general business conditions may be anticipated."

SUSPENDED POLICEMAN KILLS ONE.

Fires at Judge, Slays Prosecutor and Turns Gun on Himself.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, July 29.—Just as Judge McDonald of the Criminal Court was rising to sentence Harry B. Kellogg, a suspended police sergeant, to fifteen days in the County Jail for contempt of court, the policeman, who was in full uniform, drew his service revolver and began shooting.

The first shot tore through the judge's bench and passed between his legs. The judge dropped down behind the bench. Kellogg then shot and fatally wounded Lemuel Ackley, the attorney who prosecuted him. He then stepped back to the desk where his own attorney was standing, and fired two shots into his own head. Ackley died forty-five minutes later at the County Hospital, while surgeons were making desperate efforts to save his life by operating. Kellogg was taken to another hospital and it is said he will not recover.

The sound of the shots attracted people from all parts of the county building, and the flood tide of those rushing into the courtroom collided with the panic-stricken crowd trying to get out. Inside the courtroom both wounded men lay on the floor close to the bench, both bleeding profusely. Mrs. Ackley and her daughter, who had witnessed the shooting from a rear seat, were in hysterics and Kellogg's 18-year-old son, lay in a faint across a bench. Half a dozen women had fainted and been trampled on, and the crushing in the jam around the door, and were helpless until the police fought their way in and cleared the room.

Miss Laura Ackley, daughter of the slain attorney, said a feud had existed between the Kellogg and Ackley families for several years. Several days ago two women riding by the house in a taxicab fired eight shots at Lemuel Ackley, Jr., who was sitting in a window. They escaped, and have not been identified.

The fight today was over a piece of property. Kellogg had violated an injunction against trespassing on land in Arlington Heights, over which he and Ackley had gone into court.

"I believe Kellogg intended to kill me," said Judge McDonald. "He began shooting as soon as I started to sentence him, and Ackley happened to be in line of his fire. He had not shown any animosity toward Ackley."

Kellogg, who joined the police force in 1897, was reputed to be worth between $200,000 and $300,000. He made a business of buying tax titles and was successful, being known as the wealthiest member of the department. At the time of the shooting he was a desk sergeant attached to one of the outlying stations. Ackley was widely known throughout the State as an attorney having specialized in preparing briefs for the Supreme Court.

works. The Bolsheviki placed the city under martial law and armed patrols, accompanied by agents of the extraordinary commission, invaded the working class quarters and searched all dwellings systematically.

These patrols warned the workers that if they refused to go back to work they would be immediately arrested. Most of the men and women agreed to return but hundreds who refused the summons were placed under arrest.

The search of the dwellings lasted all night on July 19 and 20. By energetic action the Red authorities finally succeeded in breaking up the strike and forcing all the workers to go back to their factories.

A wireless dispatch received from Moscow by the Mosty Myr, a newspaper in Berlin subsidized by the Russian soviet government, says 50 per cent of the Red commissaries and of the employees of the Bolshevik government are now engaged in fighting the famine that threatens Russia. The dispatch says that all the provinces affected by famine have been released from payment of the so-called natural tax.

Stekoff, in a leading editorial in the Bolshevik official newspaper in Moscow, Izvestia, says:

"Hunger has gripped the country. From all sides come reports that the peasants, driven to desperation, are harvesting whatever unripe grain there is and eating it. Parallel with the discontent among the peasants is the growing spirit of rebellion among the city workers. Even in the Communist party, there is an observable grave decline in courage and energy."

This picture of the internal situation in Russia is painted by the soviet government's leading official journalist. It is the picture which was presented to the world by foreign correspondents weeks ago and which at that time provoked violent, indignant denials from Foreign Minister Tchitcherin of the Moscow government who, in a radio dispatch, branded these foreign correspondents, especially the Americans, as liars.

CHOOSES HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS.

Appointments for Finance and Civil Service Made.

Announcement Comes from Office of Gov. Stephens.

Clyde L. Seavey Accepts Post Without Per Diem.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, July 29.—Announcement was made by the Governor's office today of the appointments made by Gov. Stephens of department heads and division chiefs of the new Department of Finance and Department of Civil Service established by the governmental reorganization scheme effective tomorrow morning.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE.

The Department of Finance appointments are as follows:

G. B. Daniels, chairman of the State Board of Control, director of the division of claims and disbursements.

Clarence E. Jarvis, members of the Board of Control, director of division of budgets and accounts.

The third member of the Board of Control, director of division of budgets and accounts.

The third member of the Board of Control yet to be named by the Governor will be director of the division of purchases and custody.

Milton J. Ferguson, State Librarian, chief of the division of libraries.

J. M. Cremin, State Printer, chief of the division of printing.

Charles J. Chenu, superintendent of the Motor Vehicle Department, chief of the division of motor vehicles.

CIVIL SERVICE.

The Department of Civil Service appointments follow:

D. J. Reese, president of the Civil Service Commission, executive officer.

Edgar Williams and Clyde L. Seavey, City Manager of Sacramento, associate members of commission. Williams is reappointed to succeed himself and Seavey succeeds Charles W. Reed of San Francisco.

Through the reorganization of the Civil Service Commission the two associate members will receive a per diem of $10 per day for services actually rendered, not exceeding $500 each in any one year. The executive head of the department will devote his entire time to supervising the work of the department and will maintain his office in Sacramento.

DOESN'T WANT PAY.

Seavey accepted the appointment as an associate member of the Civil Service Department, it was declared by the Governor's office, on condition that he would not be required to accept the $10 per diem allowed for attending commission meetings.

The completion of the organization of the Department of Finance cannot be effected until the Governor names the third member of the State Board of Control, who, as director of the division of purchases and custody, will determine the status of W. G. McMillin, State Purchasing Agent, and W. S. Conger, Superintendent of Capitol Building and Grounds. These offices are consolidated with the Department of Finance under the reorganization scheme.

ORIENTAL QUESTION A MENACE.

Schurman Declares That Far East Must Attend the Disarmament Meet.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Everyone knows that it is the Oriental questions which today menace the peace of the world, and the participation of Oriental nations in the proposed disarmament conference is therefore vitally necessary, Dr. Jacobs Gould Schurman, United States Minister to China, said in an address at the Commonwealth Club today. Dr. Schurman departs for China on the steamer Nanking, tomorrow.

Of Chinese-American relations, he said:

"America stands for the integrity of China and the open door. We want China to remain in possession and control of her own territory and to be the mistress in her own house.

"Next to the policy of foreign spheres of influence within the country the greater menace to the integrity of China has come from ownership and control by foreign nations of strategic railroads and railroad zones. There is a strong demand today in China that financial claims against railroads should carry no political pretensions.

"The policy of the open door prohibits monopoly and discrimination. Any favors, for example in railroad service or in railroad charges, such as were once practiced here in the United States, if practiced in China today would be in violation of the policy of the open door.

"Perhaps our chambers of commerce and boards of trade will develop some new organization like a national board of commercial strategy for the investigation of the possibilities of Chinese-American trade. This problem cannot be solved by the government, nor by the agents of the government; it can only be solved by business men themselves."

TWO GIRLS DROWNED IN RESCUE ATTEMPT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALT LAKE CITY, July 29. — Marguerite Oliver, 19 years old, and Pearl Freeman, 18 years old, were drowned when they went to the rescue of their companion, Iona Oborn, 15 years old, in a swimming pool at Union, near here. The Oborn girl waded out of her depth and as her two friends approached she grasped them, thus preventing them swimming. The result was the three girls went below the surface. Burton Oliver, a brother of one of the girls, hearing screams, rushed to the scene and swam ashore with the Oborn girl, who recovered consciousness in fifteen minutes. The bodies of the two other girls were recovered.

GOULD DIVORCE IS UPHELD

French Verdict Sustained by New York Supreme Court Justice Says Woman Transgressor.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—Justice Mullan of the Supreme Court today sustained the Paris courts in the matrimonial action wherein Frank Gould, youngest son of the late Jay Gould, received a divorce from his second wife, Edith Kelly Gould. Today's decree leaves Justice Mullan out his intention of marrying Florence Lascas, the Parisienne whom the dispatches said last May he was engaged.

Justice Mullan decided today that the Paris case had been properly tried in the French courts; that Mrs. Gould had had her day in the court and that she could not, therefore, utilize the machinery of the courts of this State merely because things did not happen to go her way in France.

The court added:

"There is, admittedly, no room for her to suspicion fraud in the French courts. Except in the most technical of senses, the parties were permanently domiciled in France.

"The plaintiff in this action (Mrs. Gould) committed adultery in France. The defendant (Mr. Gould) invoked, upon that ground, the laws of the country in which they were living."

Frank J. Gould is 43 years old. His first wife was Miss Helen Margaret Kelly. They were married in 1901 and had two children, who come in for a share of the estate of their grandfather, Jay Gould, who left more than $75,000,000. After Mrs. Helen Kelly Gould secured a divorce she married Ralph H. Thomas and after he died she married the Albanian prince Vlora.

Although Mr. Gould's second wife was also named Kelly, Edith Kelly, she was no relative of the first wife. Mrs. Edith Kelly Gould had been a show girl in a Broadway production and after the decree in Paris against her she returned to the stage in London. She had married Mr. Gould in 1910, one year after his first wife got the divorce. The suit dissolving the marriage of the second wife was handed down by the Civil Court at Versailles, France.

Miss or Mrs. Florence Lascas, the prospective third wife, is a friend of Elsie Janis, the American actress, and was with her in Paris last May when the engagement of Mr. Gould to her was announced.

ENGLAND IS STAGGERING UNDER TAXES

Some Districts Find Themselves Absolutely Unable to Pay Heavy Imposts.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, July 29.—Local taxation coming on top of the 6 shilling in a pound income tax and other enormous national imposts is resulting in certain districts in something approaching chaos. A populous borough in the east end of London cannot meet the demand for £3,000 pounds sterling of the London county council for various municipal services and its Mayor and forty-one borough counsellors must appear in court on Friday and show why they should not be held personally responsible for the sum.

And now Bradford, one of the great wool manufacturing cities of the north is in dire difficulties. Thirteen years ago its rates were about 18 per cent of the assessed value of real estate, today they are 91 per cent and there has, moreover, been heavy writing up of the assessments. It is reckoned that on the old valuation the rates would have been 135 per cent.

Consequently rate payers by the dozens are returning the demand notes with the blunt statement that they cannot pay, and the local authorities are at their wits' end to know how to carry on.

FOREST DESTRUCTION FIGURES STARTLING.

BEING CUT FOUR AND A HALF TIMES AS FAST AS GROWTH, SAYS BAKER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 29.—Startling figures relative to destruction of forests of the United States were given today by Dr. Hugh P. Baker, secretary-treasurer of the American Pulp and Paper Association, at the first of a series of conferences of the forest policy commission of the United States Chamber of Commerce with timber men, lumber men, financiers and forest conservationists of Oregon.

Of the original $22,000,000 acres of forest in the United States, said Dr. Baker, only 137,000,000 remain. Forests are being cut four and one-half times faster than the growth, he said, the normal consumption being 12,000,000,000 feet annually.

FORMER AMERICAN DIES IN ENGLAND.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, July 29.—The Rt. Hon. William La Ashmead-Bartlett-Burdett-Coutts, who has been a member of Parliament for the Abbey division of Westminster since 1885, died yesterday.

Death occurred at Holly Lodge, High Gate.

Burdette-Coutts had been ill for several months, with arterial trouble.

William Burdette-Coutts was born in 1851 in the United States. He was the second son of the late Ellis Bartlett of Plymouth, Mass. His mother was the daughter of John King Ashmead of Philadelphia.

Retired Army Officer Dies in Italy.

KANSAS CITY, July 29.—Word that Brig.-Gen. James A. Irons, U.S.A. retired, had died in Sorrento, Italy, July 25, has been received here by Mrs. Edward Fenlon, a cousin of the general's wife. No details were given.

OKLAHOMA JUDGE IS FREED IN BRIBE CASE.

JUSTICE HOLDS THAT NO EVIDENCE WAS PRODUCED TO SUPPORT CHARGES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAPULPA (Okla.) July 29.—The charges that Judge Lucien B. Wright of the District Court of Greek county, accepted a bribe of $10,000 in connection with his decision for the Sallie Atkins interests in the Tommy Atkins $2,000,000 oil lands controversy, was dismissed twenty minutes after court convened today for the third day of the hearing.

Justice A. E. Piltz, in announcing his decision, said "this court dismisses the charges against Judge Wright because it finds no evidence whatever has been introduced to support the charges filed in the information."

Atty.-Gen. Freeling, in a written statement to the Associated Press said:

"The conditions surrounding this regrettable affair demanded an investigation. The proof has been submitted to the court thoroughly and impartially, and the court has delivered its judgment."

Whether a grand jury would be called August 8 by District Judge S. C. Fullerton, would not be affirmed or denied here by the Attorney-General.

DISCUSS HEALTH OF PRINCE OF WALES.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, July 29.—The impression that the health of the Prince of Wales would be gravely endangered in his projected tour of India is carried out according to program, an impression which Lord Derby's recent warning made fairly general, has been strengthened by a letter to the Manchester Guardian from "one who knows." This anonymous writer says:

"Ceremonial is eating away the Prince's youth and risking his health, perhaps his life. For the gratification of the Indian civil service and of a few Indian princes, he is being sent to India for selfish and shortsighted political reasons."

WASHINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—President Harding and Secretary Hughes will not consent to the holding of a conference on limitation of armament and the Pacific and Far Eastern problem preliminary to the conference at Washington.

Agreement was reached today between the Senate and House conferees on the Sweet bill for the relief of disabled veterans.

Lord Northcliffe today denounced as a lie the statement of Curzon that he did not direct the British Embassy to boycott the publisher in Washington and later cabled to the King's secretary denying he had given the interview quoting a conversation between His Majesty and the Prime Minister, a deposition of which by the King was read in the House of Commons by Mr. Lloyd George.

Secretary of State Hughes in a letter to President Harding asserts the belief that the United States will eventually be allocated the former German cable from Guam to Yap.

Senator Penrose announced that the Senate Finance Committee would decide its action on the question of American valuation before concluding hearings on the Fordney tariff bill. Hearings will be suspended next Tuesday for this purpose.

The House Ways and Means Committee concluded hearings on tax legislation. Representatives of the motion-picture and fur industries asked the repeal of the special taxes applying to them.

A statement issued at the White House reviews efforts of various branches of the government toward the relief of financial conditions and declares that beneficial results already are evident.

Senator Norris, chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture, is expected to refuse to sign the conference report on the meat-packer control bill. He was too ill to consider it today.

ARIZONA RAINS ARE DAMAGING.

Death and Financial Loss Caused by Storms.

Man, Horse and Dog Are Killed by Lightning.

Cloudbursts Sweep Down North of Winslow.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX, July 29.—Storms throughout Arizona during the past week have been accompanied by casualties and damage. At Phoenix hydroelectric lighting and power service was suspended, due to lightning striking the transmission line through the Superstition Mountains. North of Prescott, lightning burned out the transformers at the Del Rio pump station, thus abridging the Prescott water supply.

MAN, HORSE, DOG HIT.

Near Winslow, lightning killed Augustin Ayalla, an employee of the Scorse Sheep Company, the same bolt killing a burro he was riding, as well as his dog. Ayalla had ridden under a juniper tree for shelter from the rain.

North of Winslow the rains were rated as cloudbursts. There was little consideration of damage, however, as many thousands of sheep, gathered around the mudholes into which the tanks had shrunk, now are assured of both water and feed. At one point 15,000 Navajo sheep are saved.

Near Clifton, J. L. Awalt and Al Bishop had a narrow escape from drowning in Blue River, where they were struck by a flood, while fording. Their wagon was swept away and their horses were drowned. Near Virden lightning caused the destruction of a garage, owned by E. A. Richardson, a school teacher.

From northern Yuma county reports have come of torrential rains, with consequent damage to roads. One wagon bridge near Bourse has been swept away.

BIDS RECEIVED.

Three bids, all equivalent to below par, have been received for $255,000 in municipal 6 per cent bonds, authorized by the taxpayers for improvement purposes. The highest bid was that of the Mercantile Trust Company of St. Louis, on a basis of $941.40 for each $1000 bonds. There has been refusal to consider an issue of $70,000 for a National Guard armory on the ground that the improvement will not constitute an asset of the city, for the ground is to be deeded to the State and $50,000 is to be given the State for construction of the building. A part of the money is needed for completion of the Verde water supply system, which now is expected to be in partial operation some time in September. Just now the city water supply, about 3,000,000 gallons, is limited to the capacity of the water works pumps, as the only reservoir is a 100-foot standpipe.

REFUND ORDERED.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has ordered a refund of about $75,000 to the Southwest Cotton Company, the case instituted by the Arizona Corporation Commission. With the award goes interest at 6 per cent since April, 1919. At the time of the shipments, combination rail freight tariffs were used, instead of a through rate later put into force.

Railway freight service to Winkelman has been increased to three times a week.

THREE SATISFACTORY AMENDMENTS READY.

SACRAMENTO ATTORNEY SAYS WATER POWER DEVELOPMENT ACT TANGLE OKEH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, July 29.—Three amendments which will make the proposed Water Power Development Act of California "absolutely satisfactory," were announced by City Attorney Robert L. Shinn today after a conference with the committee sponsoring the bill, and city officials. The text of the measure was announced in San Francisco several days ago.

Shinn, in a prepared statement, had objected to certain features of the measures as he contended that the bill as drawn gave to the proposed State board the power to prevent municipalities from developing their own projects, if the board so desired. Proponents of the bill disagreed with the contention, but it was stated today that Rudolph Spreckels and other members of the sponsoring committee had agreed to the amendments, styled reservations, which will be considered by the committee in San Francisco tomorrow.

Clyde L. Seavey, City Manager of Sacramento, who joined with Shinn in objecting to the particular features of the measure, today approved the reservations.

The principal amendment by Shinn adds to a clause giving the proposed State board power to require the reservation of water from appropriation or other disposition for such periods as it may provide and prescribes conditions for the use of such water.

HITCHCOCK TELLS HOW "RITCHYKOO" FAILED.

COMEDIAN SAYS LIABILITIES TOO NUMEROUS TO MENTION IN TWO HOURS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—Raymond Hitchcock, the comedian, who recently filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, gave evidence today in support of the claim that he was broke.

He told Referee Townsend that the frolicsome show, "Hitchykoo," caused his downfall, leaving him only with notes, pawn tickets and scenery. The show bogged down at Philadelphia, he explained, and he had to pawn a watch that "Diamond Jim" Brady had given him, in order to buy railroad tickets for the chorus girls.

The referee, seeking to learn of the comedian's assets, which he listed at $138, asked about his town house, his country place on Long Island and his automobile. Hitchcock said his wife owned them all. He denied newspaper reports that there had been moonlight bathing parties at his country place or aesthetic dancing in the pink light of dawn.

The actor declared his liabilities were too numerous to mention within two hours, so the case was adjourned to August 3.

SERIOUS ECONOMIC CRISIS IN HUNGARY.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BUDAPEST, July 29.—The Hungarian crown, which recently declined to 180 to the dollar, is now 400 to the dollar. The recent fluctuations in currency are provoking a serious enonomic crisis and there is rising indignation against speculators whose operations in Zurich, Switzerland, are alleged to be the cause of the trouble.

Rail Shops to Reopen.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, July 29.—The Chicago and Northwestern Railroad today announced operations would be resumed with a full force in the car shops here next Monday. At the same time the locomotive shops will re-employ 25 per cent of the usual force. About 1200 men will be given work.

After the rest period before the third set, Miss Browne was the quicker at swinging into her stride and took the first three games, volleying with rare skill as she reached a point barely inside the service court lines. But it was evident to those who watched that Miss Browne's strength was waning rapidly. She was laboring between every shot and trying to get a grip on her nerves. Mrs. Bundy, as full of energy and powerful stroking as at the beginning, apparently was instantly aware of this weakening on the part of her opponent and brought the full force of her forehand drives into effect.

RAKES COURT.

Miss Browne simply could not combat the hail of shots that were raking her court, and being unable to work her way to the net with sufficient speed, was being passed continually. Mrs. Bundy squared the match at 3-all, and then three bitterly fought deuce games followed. Miss Browne winning the seventh and ninth and Mrs. Bundy the eighth. It was five-three then and Miss Browne surprised the gallery at this point by coming through with a whirlwind brand of tennis, cutting off Mrs. Bundy's returns by brilliant low volleys and taking the last game at love.

ASK PLAYERS BE CONVICTED.

State Makes a Dramatic Plea in Baseball Trial.

Claims Men Conspired to Ruin National Pastime.

Cicotte's Work in Series Gets Scorching Tirade.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, July 29.—Final arguments in the baseball trial were begun today with the State directing a two-hour attack on the defendants in which the former White Sox players were pictured "traitors, who for $100,000 of dirty money, sold their souls, betrayed their comrades, and the public, and conspired to make the one truly American pleasure and sport—baseball—a confidence game."

Edward Prindiville directed the prosecutions first-fire in the final pleas, his talk coming after the defense had won a battle of strategy from the State by keeping out of the record a statement Happy Felsch, former Sox centerfielder, is alleged to have made to a newspaper reporter that he was paid $5000 to throw games.

SPECIAL SESSION.

Mr. Prindiville expects to finish his argument in a special session of court tomorrow. The defense pleas will take up Monday and possibly part of Tuesday with George Gorman closing for the State last Tuesday. The case is expected to be in the jury's hands late Tuesday or early Wednesday.

Mr. Prindiville directed his words mainly against Eddie Cicotte, Chick Gandil, Joe Jackson, Claude Williams and David Zelcer, the latter identified by two State's witnesses as a man, who, under the name of Bennett, helped to organize the alleged conspiracy for the throwing of the 1919 world series. After lining the details of the alleged conspiracy as related by Bill Burns, admitted accomplice, who turned State's evidence, Mr. Prindiville called the jury's attention to the similarity of Burns's story, and the confession of Eddie Cicotte. He was particularly bitter in speaking of Cicotte.

SCORES CICOTTE.

"This man, by his own confession, sat in his room at the Warner Hotel here and arranged to receive $10,000 for the dirty work he planned," said Mr. Prindiville. "Then, Judas-like, he went downstairs to hobnob with his innocent teammates, and, in his own words, to allay the suspicions of the men whom he had just betrayed.

"He said he'd throw the ball over the fence if necessary to lose the first game. And what happened in the first game? Cicotte, the American League's greatest pitcher, hurling with a heavy heart—by his own confession—and a pocket made heavy by $10,000 in graft, was beaten, 9 to 1.

"No wonder he lost. The pocket loaded with the filth for which he sold his soul and his friends was too much. It overbalanced him and he lost."

STAND CONVICTED.

Mr. Prindiville declared the evidence proved Chick Gandil was of the conspiracy leaders and that Williams and Jackson stood convicted by their own confessions.

"Williams and Jackson have admitted their guilt," he said. "What can you gentlemen do but go the limit in punishing them?"

"And this man Zelcer," he shouted. "He has tried to prove an alibi, to prove that he is not the man Bennett who helped Abe Attel run this deal.

"Yet, we prove that Abe Attell had thousands of dollars under the mattresses in his room at the Cincinnati hotel, and that he took $10,000 of this money—against Bennett's wishes—and gave it to Burns for the players and Burns gave it to Williams and Jackson.

KNEW ATTELL.

"And Zelcer, after first saying he knew Attell slightly, finally admits that Attell roomed with him at Cincinnati during the series. He then admits that he has known Attell for years—and yet he did not know of this conspiracy or of the $10,000 transactions in his own room.

"Burns may be a squealer. But, is he any worse than these defendants? Three of them squealed. His story is as good as theirs—better, because he withstood two days of gruelling cross-questioning without changing a single main fact.

"Of course the defendant players were at practice the morning Burns talked with them in Cincinnati. Burns himself has told you that he talked with them only a few minutes and that they then went to practice. The defense has not hurt Burns's story one bit on that point.

"These men did what Abe Attell told them. Abe said 'lose the first two.' They did. Abe said 'win the third.' They did."

Tomorrow Mr. Prindiville will go into the legal aspects of the case—the technicalities of the law.

GIANTS TO TAKE ON SUBMARINES TODAY.

Jim Alexander will send his well-known Giants against Chief Gott's Submarine Base Club this afternoon in a return game. The Sub Base team is the only club that has walloped the Giants this year, and a fast and furious battle is looked for.

The third game of a series with the Standard Oil Club of El Segundo is billed for tomorrow afternoon for the Giants. The Giants so far have come out winners with the oil men, but by close margins. Both games will be played at the Giants' field, Thirty-second street and Long Beach avenue.

OREGON IS TO MEET STANFORD IN GAMES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29. — Graduate Manager Fletcher of Stanford University announced yesterday that he had drawn up a football contract with Oregon Agricultural College whereby that institution and Stanford would meet on the gridiron in games during the next two years. The Aggies, he said, are to meet Stanford at Palo Alto on next October 29, and in turn Stanford will journey to Corvallis next year, the exact date to be determined later.

PARKER IS VICTORIOUS.

Bill Parker is the only member of the San Francisco outfit that has survived the nifty playing of the local net wizards in the Southern California lawn tennis championships, the final rounds of which are to be played today and tomorrow at the Los Angeles Tennis Club. Nat Browne disposed of Ray Greenberg yesterday afternoon in three deuce sets, while the Reinke-Man combination in the doubles eliminated Parker and LaCroix from the running by taking the last two sets of a match left over from yesterday.

San Francisco's lone victory yesterday came just as the shades of night were falling, when Bill Parker won from Tom Ferrandini in a long three-set match in which deuce games were as common as short skirts on Broadway. Ferrandini galloped off with the initial set 6-1, and it looked as though Bill would follow his team-mates to the gutter.

WAKES UP.

However, Parker began to do things in the second set, and after a tough argument came out on top, the score being 10-8. Both men played brilliant tennis in the rubber set, and points were won only after long rallys. Ferrandini was applauded frequently for his excellent net playing, while Parker had the edge on service. With a burst of high-powered racket swinging Parker finally obtained the necessary two games, the score for the final set being 11-9.

Previous to his match with Parker, Tom Ferrandini had demonstrated his skill on the cement rectangle by taking the far-famed Fred Alexander down the line rather easily, the scores being 2-6, 6-4, 6-3. Nervousness at playing with a champion seemed to affect Ferrandini's game in the first set, and Alexander won, 6-2. Then Ferrandini began the sensational playing that was responsible for his victory. Wonderful placing and returning seemingly impossible plays, the local lad outplayed the former champion in every department of the game, and Alexander fell into the discard by losing the last two sets.

FIFTY-FIFTY.

Nat Browne and Ray Greenberg played an almost even game, each

JAPAN LOSES AT TENNIS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, July 29.—Richard Norris Williams II. of Boston, defeated Zenzo Shimidzu of Japan, in straight sets today in the final match of the lawn tennis tournament for the Longwood bowl. The scores were 6-3, 7-5, 6-4. Williams will face William M. Johnston of San Francisco tomorrow in the challenge round in a match marking Johnston's first appearance of the season on eastern courts.

Williams's tennis in the first and third sets was spectacular. At the net he was deadly with his overhead smashes and his volleys from mid-court were clean and decisive. From the base line he was steady and prevented Shimidzu from making his severe forehand drives effective.

In doubles Shimidzu and his Davis cup team-mate, Ichiya Kumagae, reached the final round through their victory over Wallace F. Johnson and Harry C. Johnson in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2. The Japanese team will face Raymond B. Bidwell and W. E. Porter, Jr., Massachusetts doubles champions, in the final round tomorrow.

BALL FEAT WINS BERTH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The feat of Charlie Dorman, 20, in catching and winning a game for Salt Lake against San Francisco, last Wednesday, after he had been drafted from the grand stand to take the place of Catcher Byler, who was banished, resulted today in his being signed by the Washington Americans for the 1922 season.

The expulsion of Byler at a time when his club was without a relief catcher, forced an appeal to the stands for help. Dorman answered, got into Byler's uniform, and not only caught an errorless game, but made a timely hit that brought victory to Salt Lake.

Dorman played for a time with Vancouver in the Pacific International, and with St. Joseph in the Western League.

ENGLAND WINS YACHT RACES.

Britishers Score More Points Than Americans.

Contest Sailed Under Squally Weather Conditions.

Sheila's Mast is Carried Away by Strong Wind.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

RYDE (Isle of Wight) July 29.—Great Britain won the first race, sailed today, in the international six-meter yacht competition for the British-American cup, the British yachts out-scoring the Americans on points. The race was sailed in squally weather.

Only two of the American yachts, the Grebe and the Montauk, started in today's event. The Montauk retired during the first round. The Grebe finished the round, at the conclusion of which the race was stopped because of the rough weather and the victory was awarded to England on points. Before the start the Sheila, another of the American yachts, was dismasted by the strong wind and was towed in for repairs.

DIDN'T START.

The fourth member of the American team, the Genie, did not start because it appeared she was about to lose her mast. The Grebe proved a good weatherly craft and soon worked her way to the head of the fleet. She finished first, three and three-quarter minutes ahead of the Flya, which beat the Polly by less than half a minute, for second place. The Jean came in fourth, and the Victoria was last.

Despite the stormy weather the British artist hung on and, without mishap, completed the race. Owing to the severity of the weather the committee ended the contest on the completion of the first round and the Britishers were announced the winners of the race on points.

PORTLAND, July 29.—Vernon made a triple play in today's game with Portland, which went to the Tigers 10 to 1 In the fourth inning Poole and Wolfer led off with singles for Portland. MARKING TIME FOR THE DEER.

Festive "Forked-Horn' Legal Game Up Coast.

New Laws to Learn Regarding Sespe Refuge.

Districts Three and Two Are Only Ones Opening.

Deer season in the Coast Range north and west of Los Angeles county will be ushered in on Monday, August 1, with certainty of the most general celebration ever staged by Southern Californian nimrods.

Advance sales of hunting licenses by agents of the California Fish and Game Commission show a steady increase in deerslaying enthusiasm, which, unfortunately must concentrate upon the up-coast districts for an entire month, as these alone escaped the general delaying of the season, elsewhere in the State.

The unavoidable result is that the large class of sportsmen whose vacations must come during August, will force the bucks of Ventura, Western Kern and the counties north and west up the coast to Mendocino, to bear the brunt of all early hunting. It is safe to predict that two years hence, a storm seasons and a one-buck limit will have little opposition anywhere in the South.

"ARE SPOTTED."

Deer conditions, as reported by field-patrol deputies to southern division headquarters of the Fish and Game Commission, are rather spotted, but it would appear that the farther north the vacation-huntsman is able to go, the better are his prospects for bagging his still legal, "two bucks of forked-horns, or better."

San Luis Obispo is the best deer county in the lower Coast Range. Ventura has been badly over-hunted. In few places do the most sanguine sportsmen claim the deer-supply above par. The conclusion is forced that the deer within easy driving distance of Los Angeles need more protection at law. During the first three weeks of August, most bucks are still "in the velvet;" their soft horns, tender and bleeding at the touch, keep them out of the brush, exposed to the inexperienced hunter, and too easy to get for the maintenance of a sufficient breeding-stock. August 15 would have been early enough in all conscience, and that is the opening date the Fish and Game Commission, Senator Arbuckle, and others actuated by sportsmanlike ideas of conservation, sought to get.

WORSE DOSE.

However, deer hunters of the extreme South were dealt out a worse dose in the other extreme, having to wait until September 16 for their innings—or rather, "outings." This date is fully as much too late as August 1 was too early, and like it, must be considered as one of those things that was done to, rather than done by, the Fish and Game Commission, whose expression of the wishes of the best-informed, least selfish classes among sportsmen fortunately prevailed in most matters if not in this.

In general, those hunting their deer in Fish and Game District Three, will not have much to learn under the new laws. The district remains unchanged, including the entire Coast Range; Kern county, west of Tehon highway; and the extreme western parts of the San Joaquin Valley counties, including all of some of the smaller ones on the western rim.

TRICK TURNED BY TWIN SIX.

of the base, and lifting his foot, raised the bag some distance. Then he came down on top of it to make the thing binding. In short, he stepped under and over the base, numerously imprinting on it his unmistakable trademark. Yet this truly great umpire called the runner safe.

So it was necessary to charge Reinhart with an error which he didn't commit, and mutilate an otherwise perfect game. This decision came dangerously near spilling the nicely scalloped spuds. After Sheehan had flied, Buddy Ryan belted a single, which put Compton on second. Dixie Carroll was lucky to block the drive, and hold the front runner at second. Bill Orr followed with a liner to left, which Carroll charged in and gathered to himself just in the nick of time.

MAN WITH HOE.

When Statz came to the plate in the first he was immediately hailed as the man with the hoe. Then he promptly qualified as the man of the hour, leaving the other seven hours of an eight-hour day unpopulated. He drove to right center. Everybody, including Buddy Ryan, who was in front of the ball, thought it a mere single. But Statz kept going, touching only the high spots, or potato hills, and landed at second ahead of Ryan's throw.

McAuley sacrificed. Carroll drove an easy grounder to Sheehan. Sheehan retreated to the base, retiring Carroll, and despite the fact that he kept his eye on the runner, Statz made an audacious dash for the plate. Sheehan, upset by surprise, heaved to Cook, but Statz slid safely under the ball.

NOT DIFFICULT.

Fortunately, it was not a difficult decision, or Jake Croter might have been in trouble. In trying to get his mask off to watch the play, he got the cage screwed around sidewise on his face, and this interfered with his line of vision.

GAME IS COPPED BY OLD-TIMERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLEVELAND, July 29.—Old-time professional baseball players, some of whom played with Cleveland as far back as 1879, today defeated a team of veteran sand-lotters, 11 to 6, the event being one of the features of Cleveland's one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary celebration. A large crowd was present to watch the former stars. Cy Young, the only pitcher who ever won 500 major-league games, went to the box at the outset of the contest with Chief Zimmer, his old catcher, behind the bat. Each is well over 50 years of age. This famous old battery worked two innings, being followed by younger pitchers and catchers.

Only two hits were made off Young. He struck out two batters and gave one base on balls.

again, but Fred Mollwitz started serving a three-day term. Three words, three days. Only safe place to play is in a deaf and dumb league.

Bill Rodgers was on the line yipping for the first time this week. From the plaintive tone of Bill's yipe it was inferred that he wanted his French fried. The quotations:

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, July 29.—Examination today developed that Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Americans, had torn a ligament in running bases in yesterday's game with Boston and that there was no fracture as was thought at first. WOULD SETTLE COLOR PROBLEM.

East African Mandate May Offer Solution.

Expect America Will Join the League of Nations.

Australian Mandate in New Guinea Criticised.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, July 29.—At the League of Nations union meeting at Oxford yesterday, Maj. Ornsby Gore, M. P., spoke of the League's mandates. He said he believed if the East African mandate should be successful it would go far towards settling the color problem throughout the world. After the lecture a gentleman who he described as a distinguished American citizen arose and said the great majority of Americans are in sympathy with the League.

"We shall be with you before long," he said. "Don't worry, just wait. There are two very strong men in the Cabinet who are both in for America joining the League—Hughes and Hoover—and they are slowly, but surely winning over President Harding."

Maj.-Gen. Sir Frederick Maurice addressed the meeting. Referring to President Harding's invitation to a conference on disarmament, Gen. Maurice said all good leaders should welcome any proposal coming from that quarter, provided it was calculated to promote the object for which the League is working. However successful the Washington conference might be, the necessity for the League as a permanent body to supervise the carrying out of any agreement reached would be in no way diminished. The League, said Gen. Maurice, will be the world's watch dog.

MANDATE CRITICISED.

The Australian correspondent of the Manchester Guardian writes:

"A few months ago I told of the manner in which the Australian government was anticipating the mandate of the League, and that it had begun by expropriating the German property in the former German colony of New Guinea before receiving any documents from the League.

"The mandate has now arrived and gives the government very wide powers, but there is considerable argument over the question whether it entitles Australia to enforce its exclusionist policy against Japanese and Chinese. That is a question which will have to be decided definitely and quickly.

NATION BREAKS WORD.

"When the Germans surrendered to the Australians they did so on the distinct understanding that the rights of private citizens would be respected. Through the Australian commander that guarantee was definitely given by the Australian government and therefore by confiscating all the property of Germans in New Guinea, Australia is breaking its word although the peace treaty and the mandate permitted such expropriation.

"The expropriation board began operations last September. It started by expropriating the eight German companies in New Guinea. The largest, the New Guinea Company, has a capital of $2,750,000, controls fifty plantations and exports about one-third of the copra produced in the country.

GERMANS DRIVEN OUT.

"The board gave the general manager of the New Guinea Company notice to leave his house within a couple of days, but made no provision for housing him and his family elsewhere. Exactly the same policy has been pursued in other cases. A special ordinance has been promulgated prohibiting the Australian managers, appointed in their places from giving the Germans shelter on the plantations.

"Some of the Germans, replying to the cordial invitation of the Dutch government, have already taken up land in Dutch New Guinea, some have gone to Java, some back to Germany, and others to South America. Instead of adopting a sane policy, the government has seized the property of all the Germans and is carrying out a policy which must soon ruin the entire colony."

MRS. HARDING PLAYS PART IN PATRONAGE.

HATTIE JEWELL ANDERSON GETS POST THROUGH AID OF FIRST LADY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—An interesting deadlock in California patronage has just been broken and in its solution Mrs. Harding, wife of the President of the United States, has played a most important part. Her steadfast support of one of the candidates for Federal place has been successful, and though the aspirant had no support from the local political authorities, Mrs. Harding's candidate will enjoy one of the best patronage plums in the State.

Both Senators from California have agreed to indorse for appointment in the Land Office at San Francisco, as Receiver, Hattile Jewell Anderson. At the same time it is expected that P. H. Coffman of Red Bluff, who was widely and well indorsed for superintendent of the mint, will be named as register of the Land Office.

Miss Anderson is a protege of the first lady of the land. She came to Marion last summer with the pilgrims from California, and after they went back home, lingered on in the front porch campaign and did a lot of work around headquarters in Marion. After the election she started out to land a job in the San Francisco Land Office and has eliminated several other candidates. The slate worked out by the California Senators, which included Mrs. French, former stenographer, secretary to Senator Johnson, while he was Governor, was to be recommended as one of the lucky ones for the Land Office places. But Miss Anderson never lost hope, and in spite of all the indorsements of the local committee and the personal wishes of the Senators, Miss Anderson has the desk in the Land Office nailed down tightly.

Senate Committee Wants Only Facts on Tariff.

Johnson Has Amendment on Almond Rates.

Seeks Increase and Will Take Fight to Floor.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 29. — Preparatory to the consideration of rates and provisions of the new tariff bill, Senate Finance Committee members appeared today to have adopted a new policy with respect to testimony in the hope, it was declared, of getting "more facts and less generalities."

Several committee members indicated their intention to press witnesses for definite facts and figures upon which to base the new rates.

ALMONDS AMENDMENT.

Senator Johnson of California announced he would introduce tomorrow an amendment to the bill which would increase the rates on almonds from 4 cents to 5 cents a pound on unshelled and from 12 cents to 15 cents a pound on shelled products. The Senator proposes, he said in a statement, to carry the fight for his amendment to the floor of the Senate if the Finance Committee refuses to adopt it.

Plans of some of the members to reduce the hearings to statements of value to the committee became known after Chairman Penrose had announced that hearings would be suspended after Monday while the members determine whether American valuation provisions in the Fordney or House bill are to be stricken out or retained. All rates in the bill were computed on the basis of assessing duties on the domestic value of imported commodities and Senator Penrose said it was useless to go further into consideration of details until the question of policy has been decided.

SEEKS ONLY FACTS.

The first move to have the record show only "facts" was made by Senator Reed, Missouri. He urged that testimony of A. G. Rosengarton, a Philadelphia chemical manufacturer, be omitted after the witness had declined to give the committee information concerning this firm's production costs, taxes, earnings, dividends and other details which Mr. Reed declared were necessary to show whether tariff protection was required. No action was taken on the Missourian's request. The half-dozen witnesses who appeared later, however, had anything but smooth sailing, for cross-questioning as to costs and so forth was taken up by several other Senators.

The committee considered the chemical schedule of the bill today and further discussion on it is planned for tomorrow. The dye embargo, proposed by the House Ways and Means Committee, but killed by the House, was brought in several times, but witnesses contended mainly for high protective duties on chemical products. Members of the committee said it appeared that supporters of the three-year ban on dye imports had lost hope of having it restored to the bill, but it is known that the provision would be given consideration in committee later on.

DEFAULTING HEAD OF BANK ELUDES POLICE.

SPURGIN CLEWS IN ALABAMA FRUITLESS NO TRACE OF BLONDE WOMAN.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, July 29. — While police and a score of Pinkerton operatives were scouring the neighborhood of Irvington and South Orchards, Ala., for Warren G. Spurgin, defaulting president of the Michigan-avenue Trust and Savings Company, agents of the State Attorney's office tonight were following what were declared to be new leads elsewhere.

The Alabama clew, it was learned today, was based on an inquiry for mail last Monday by a man giving the name of Spurgin and answering in a general way to his description. Detectives were rushed to the neighborhood early Tuesday and have been working since.

Today the State's Attorney's office had information that Spurgin left this city in company with a woman, the wife of an ex-convict, and the mother of a man said to be closely allied with at least one of Spurgin's stock-selling schemes. This woman, it is said, has since returned to Chicago. Police are searching for her.

Search for Miss Helen Leroy, 21 years old, and blonde, believed to have been intimate with Spurgin previous to his flight from Chicago, has so far shown no results.

Mrs. Mary McHugh, mentioned by Investigators in connection with an oil stock deal by Spurgin, was released today by Assistant State's Attorney James E. McShane after an hour's questioning. Mrs. McHugh came voluntarily to Chicago to offer her services in unraveling the affair.

"She is not implicated in any way," Prosecutor McShane declared. "She has made a thorough statement; it absolves her from any interest in Spurgin or his accounts."

International Supreme Council Convenes Tuesday.

Nonsectarian Committee Has Arranged Program.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—From all parts of North America and the outlying American Territories, Knights of Columbus are gathering in San Francisco tonight for the thirty-ninth annual international supreme council of the order, which will be held August 2, 3 and 4.

The council will be the first ever held in San Francisco by the Knights of Columbus and a nonsectarian committee of citizens, named by Mayor James Rolph, Jr., has arranged an elaborate entertainment program for the 20,000 knights and ladies expected.

Although the formal sessions of the gatherings are not due to open until Tuesday, the entertainment program will start tomorrow with automobile tours of San Francisco and the counties surrounding San Francisco Bay. Sunday there will be special convention services in many San Francisco churches.

Solemn pontifical high mass at the famous old Mission Dolores Church, built here in 1776, will open the council Tuesday. Most Reverend Edward J. Hanna, D.D., archbishop of San Francisco, will be celebrant at the mass, assisted by bishops and high church dignitaries from all parts of the Pacific Coast.

Following the mass, a military parade of knights will take place across the city to the San Francisco civic center and City Hall, where the keys of the city will be formally turned over to Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty by Mayor Rolph. Military bands and units of a large number of organizations will march in the parade.

During the convention, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, noted American ace, will lead a squadron of airplanes in an aerial pageant over the city in compliment to the visitors. One important entertainment feature will be a trip of delegates to the top of Mt. Tamalpais, near here, over "the crookedest railroad in the world."

ESPERANTO CONGRESS MEETING IN BERLIN.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, July 29.—Nationals from eighteen nations are attending the World Esperanto Congress being held here. Several members, who declare that a common language for the world will be the greatest means for uniting the nations and preventing world wars in the future, have had unpleasant experiences on the streets when some were mistaken for Frenchmen and others for Bolshevists. A near-riot was created during one of the sessions when a German nonmember of the organization arose and declared he preferred to remain a German.

HOLD SHIP UNDER VOLSTEAD ACT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SUPERIOR (Wis.) July 29.—Instructions to hold the 6000-ton lake freighter La Salle in the local harbor until Washington authorities rule on whether or not it shall be seized under the Volstead Act, were received today by George Ihrig, Federal prohibition agent group chief, from the Chicago prohibition enforcement office.

Mr. Ihrig seized a twenty-gallon still, moonshine and mash on board the vessel yesterday.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

The Kemalists are calling new classes to the colors, insisting that the Turks must fight to the last man to save the country. The Turks have closed Samsoun and other Black Sea ports to trade because of the concentration of Greek troops for service in Asia Minor.

You know you want to do away with the disagreeable tasks at the kitchen sink! Save your hands and make your work easy? You know you do, so this will tell you just a tiny bit about a surprise which you must watch next week's paper to learn about and see featured. One woman who used "It" said "It's a perfect joy." You are to be congratulated on the service you have done housewives. Now aren't you really curious? And again, "It" is something we have been waiting for, for years. However, what's worth getting is worth while waiting for, so keep your eyes open good readers.

When you stock the little cabin you have rented for the rest of the summer or for your vacation period, take to heart this most important reminder. Order plenty of Jevne's coffee for breakfast. You know how ravenous you are in the morning, and how you wake up thinking how good the coffee is going to taste. Don't allow the disappointment of a poor brand of coffee to spoil the day for you. That is why you should make sure it's Jevne's you order and get plenty, (emphasis on plenty,) for it's going to taste mighty fine. All will want a second cup at least and to run short would be a tragedy one wouldn't like to even think about. No trouble to buy, all good grocers carry the Jevne's brand, of course.

Pineapple Sherbert—Two cups water, one cup sugar, juice of three lemons, two cups ice water, one quart can grated pineapple. Make a syrup by boiling water and sugar fifteen minutes; add the pineapple and lemon juice; cool, strain, add ice water and freeze to a mush, using equal parts of ice and salt. If fresh fruit is used, more sugar will be required.

When making apple pie roll a few gratings of cheese into the crust.

I don't know just what percentage of new residents we have in Los Angeles each week, but I am certain the number is great. They will want to order milk from some dealer, and of course they will be desirous of patronizing one upon whom they can depend for rich, fresh, sanitarily bottled milk—my advice to them is call up the L. A. Creamery, one trial will convince them that L. A. milk is simply fine! Old residents who are not satisfied with their creamery should follow this "hunch" and do likewise.

Can't you imagine how perfectly "luscious" a bundle of orange carrot-strips held together by a ring of green pepper half concealed by encircling plumes of water cress is going to taste when Jevne's mayonnaise is placed in a golden heap on the plate right next to it? The picture is lovely, but the taste of it "divine!" Jevne's mayonnaise is good for everything, meats, fish, fruits and vegetables are susceptible to Jevne's. From your grocer you may buy a bottle, containing different amounts to suit the size of your family. After the first bottle is emptied you never need further inducement to keep it on your shelves, of that be positive.

Here is something you don't want to miss for it is an excellent bargain—one of the sort one doesn't run across often. On Friday and Saturdays at Mower's Hardware Store, 933 W. 7th—(phone number, Pico 1908,) you are offered a $4.50 Lifetime Aluminum baking pan or pudding pan. With a collender or strainer and cover, for $2.59—and a three-quart double dipped saucepan, $1.75 value for 95 cents. Lifetime Aluminum is the sort which wears for ever and at these prices should be taken advantage of.

Will this recipe for a summer salad be a change—add variety to your menu and chase "old Mister Monotony" away? Cottage cheese peanut salad, this called. Drain L. A. Creamery Co's. Cottage Cheese thoroughly and moisten with sour cream; add one-third cup of chopped peanuts and salt to taste. Shape in balls and serve on crisp lettuce leaves with French dressing. L. A. Cottage Cheese is a food product, which is ever so good for us all. The kiddies like sandwiches made of it—some put sugar on it and eat it as "Little Miss Muffet Who Sat on a Tuffet," did her curds and whey—How you eat it is of small matter. Just so you serve it to the members of your family.

PRONTO is truly a housewife's salvation. Slopped-up sinks and drains try one's very soul, and are most annoying to say the least. Have a can of Pronto "within shaking distance," and such a calamity as the aforementioned annoyance cannot take place. Use it often and you will keep the pipes perfectly clean, thereby eliminating plumber's bills and an unnecessary amount of trouble.

The transformation of an ordinary flower shop into the most clever imitation of The Mission of Capistrano is an achievement! This Mr. Lichtenburg has accomplished in his new shop, 913 W. 7th. Flowers from there now seem more beautiful. Lichtenburg's reputation of long standing is greatly increased by this new setting.

Cleanliness is right next door to Godliness—even closer—they occupy the same double house and if you want the latter you must have the former. The simplest way to bring all this about is to call to your assistance no other than the Crown Laundry. Goodness gracious me, but they do deliver the clothes (figuratively as well as literally) beautifully washed, beautifully ironed and dazzlingly white! My sightseeing trip through the entire Crown Laundry convinced me that I might trust my most precious garments to their care and be assured that they would come back to me in perfect condition washed with what I may say, conservatively speaking, personal care. One week's trial will prove my statement.

Delicious peach jam is made with dried peaches and shredded almonds. Flavor with a little cinnamon.

A month in Los Angeles only, then if anyone says Young's Market to you, you know where the best is being served. Milk-fed chickens—real beef the best to be had and fish absolutely fresh, these are but a few of the things which made Young's famous, but, not for long could their fame be limited to three things. Today every article of food sold with the name Young's attached to it stands for the acme of quality. If you are a customer of theirs you know this praise is justified.

To keep raisins, currants or citron from falling to the bottom of a cake, rub them in flour and warm them a little in the oven before adding to the cake.

Are your kiddies possessed of healthy, hearty appetites? And the grown-ups—do they eat their breakfasts with a relish? They do! is the emphatic reply when Phospho meal is served for at once the offending members of the family who are wont to linger over their morning toilette—have their interest piqued by anticipation, and this is one time when it isn't greater than reality for Phospho meal is loved by old as well as young. Are you using it? Have you tried it? There is no time like the present.

Barbecued Ham—Fry in their own fat some rather thick slices of cold ham. When they begin to crisp at the edges draw to the side of the dish and add to the fat in the pan one saltspoon of dry mustard, one teaspoonful of sugar, a little pepper and one tablespoonful of vinegar. Turn the ham over in this sauce several times.

A cooling drink—a thirst quenching beverage is it—you—good readers desire? Well here are suggestions galore! Warm days inspire ice-tinkling ideas and we recall to mind the punch bowl which should never be empty. The compartments of the ice chest or refrigerator in which should repose a dozen bottles at least, of Arrowhead Ginger Ale or Dr. Sweet's Root Beer, the latter securable from Arrowhead's plant. Mind you don't forget the Arrowhead Syrups made of the true fruit juices and Kwas, another of Arrowhead's celebrated drinks.

All phone orders at South 881 are promptly taken care of—put the number on your memorandum and call today, say for a case or so of any or all of these delightful beverages. It is always a good idea to be prepared.

Stove polish mixed with vinegar and a small bit of sugar will give a brighter and more lasting luster.

Where are you luncheoning to-day? Have you made any plans for tiffin this afternoon after the matinee? And dinner in the cool of the evening—what about that? Why not to The Elite? It admirably suits all three needs and solves the question perfectly. Most of us are aware of The Elite's ability as caterers. The majority of folks have tasted of their cakes, candies and pastries, for excellence you know and all that—but luncheon—tea at four and dinner at night at The Elite is an event in fooddom. 641 Flower street is the address. You know the next move!

Yes indeed, The Eastern Outfit-ting Company sells the Day Light washing machine and on easy terms too, don't forget. Do you know what principle is in this excellent machine? It is operated, to begin with, on the principle of a vacuum which is, most of us will agree, a splendid idea. The forcing of sudsy water first up through the soiled garments, then down, cannot help but remove the dirt. It simply hasn't a "Chinese Chance," to use the lingo of the slangful—to remain there. A demonstration, like "a word to the wise," is sufficient. Seeing certainly believing—620-626 South Main is The Eastern Outfitting Company's address.

Seems like our thirsts are un-quenchable of late, doesn't it? The business of satisfying this desire for a cooling drink might just as well be doubly pleasant by making up a brew with Cream-O-Malt Syrup, which is sold by the Clee Koe Coffee Co., 316 W. 5th. It is in demand these days, too! A discerning public is awakening to its excellency by increasing their calls for Cream-O-Malt, and no substitute, if you please.

To freshen stale vegetables soak them for an hour in cold water to which the juice of a lemon has been added.

There is no such thing as a capri-cious appetite. When you plan to serve Hughes Ice Cream to the members of your somewhat blase family who tire of this dessert and tire of that, Hughes Ice Cream is made in so many different flavors it's hard to discriminate, don't you know? You adore them all. Fresh Peach has almost supplanted the old favorite Strawberry. Then there is the one we all enthuse over—Orange—that in itself has made Hughes famous. Their yellow and white sign which shows a big "H," stands for Hughes and Halt, then when you have obeyed its command, you add "Hurrah for Hughes!"

If you have never tasted Castruc-cio Brothers Brand of Imported Virgin Olive Oil which you can tell at a glance is the original by the Red Cross trade mark in the center of the Crest on the cans—you don't know what you are missing, and after the first used you are apt to say, "Where has this remarkably fine oil been all my life!"—For a number of years it has been sold by Vignolo-Giacomino Company, the sole distributors of this oil, 177 North Spring. Importers, by the way, of the finest high class goods obtainable. Pico 130 and 12311 are their phone numbers.

Tantalizingly appealing are the Perfect Cream Doughnuts which visitors to Los Angeles say are of a "surpassing goodness." The first bite into this toothsome favorite of "years and years" calls forth an exclamation of pleasure. "Such perfect Perfect Cream Doughnuts!" they are won't to remark. Take home a dozen for supper tonight! 207 W. 4th is the address.

The beach is the place to go these days. Street cars are distressingly filled to overflowing—your car is disabled or nonexistent, but the Yellow Taxi is always ready at a moment's notice to answer the call. Peeko Two is the pass word. Their rates are surprisingly low, less than you have any idea of, perhaps. Use them to shop, when attending parties or catching trains. Service is their middle name, first and last also.

Before serving, beat the chocolate briskly with a Dover egg beater. Instead of the unlovely film, each cup will have a fluffy foam of bubbles on its surface.

"Back to Nature" is the cry of all humanity when on vacating bent. To lead an out-of-door life far from the maddening crowds gives the retrospection necessary to every man and woman. Its going to be such bliss—that trip with all the newest contraptions, modern camp stoves—compact affairs—comfy auto tents—complete auto kits, thus could one continue for a column, but you must see them at the Western Hardware and Arms Company, 518 S. Main. Note the prices, cheap aren't they? You never leave the store without placing your order for these.

French, Belgian and Swiss natives cook young lettuce leaves just like spinach.

Are you using Anti-Pest? It is truly one of the most remarkable preparations on the market for the extermination of one of California's biggest nuisances—Ants. Nothing short of marvelous is the way this liquid rids you of moths and other "objectionables" as well. Spray it any place on anything, including very perishable fabrics and it won't harm them, but it does free you from those insects which make life unbearable. You may buy Anti-Pest from Horace Moll—720 W. 9th—Phone 64843.

Have a small horseshoe magnet in your work basket fastened to the end of a tape or ribbon of sufficient length so that it can be dropped to the floor to pick up scissors or needles.

A treasure house filled with beau-tifully cut glassware is the description one accords the Great Western Cut Glass Company, 320 W. 4th. A sugar and creamer set there this week past was a love of a set and a moment later a tall glass pitcher with the daintiest tracery of vines or perhaps it was ferns upon it, made one long to have it for one's own. It knew it was needed for lemonade and ice tea, too. The prices at the Great Western Cut Glass Company are an added attraction. They impress you at once as being extremely low. If you haven't had the pleasure of visiting their combined factory and store do so at the very first opportunity.

Go to Lichtenburg's Floral Shop (now at 913 W. 7th) for flowers when you are entertaining at tea, with a garden party or in a formal or informal manner.

Scratches, stains and all marks, which mar the appearance of your hardwood floors, are removed by The Acme Cleaners, who clean wax floors and repolish them most skillfully. House-cleaning is another specialty of theirs. Floors which are neglected too long cost more to refinish and are infinitely harder to keep clean. Pico 1680 is their phone number.

A word about "The Staff of Life." The housewife whose main prop it is, is interested at once. We eat bread three times a day. All the more reason why the kind served should be as fine as is made. Ever use Bear Bread? Not long has it been on the market, but by Jove, it's a winner! Finely grained, white and firm (deliver us from crumby bread!) and a just-right brown. Now, don't forget to order a loaf or so today from your grocer.

Just give me Baked Beans in the Boston way, made by the deservedly famed Food Shop, 121 S. Western Ave., phone Holly 1676. People go into rhapsodies over their deliciousness. You understand why when you have had them. To taste any home-cooked food at the Food Shop is just another way of saying "Me for them Forever!"

ESE, MELON ILL ROMANCE.

Flask Also Figures in Divorce Action.

Asserts Husband Drove Guests from Home.

He Cut Her Hair, Hit Her, Threw Stones.

[illegible] cheese, whisky flask [illegible] ripe watermelon are the [illegible] which gave acute dyspepsia to romance of Constance [illegible] and her husband, Rudolph [illegible] reputed to be a wealthy oil [illegible] according to the divorce [illegible] yesterday in the Superior [illegible] by the wife.

It was a particularly [illegible] affair, the complaint states, recorded a place of honor [illegible], where the husband [illegible] in order to drive away his [illegible] guests. The whisky [illegible] reference is made to pousse-[illegible]—was used as ammunition by the wife as the target. If that was as nothing, however, compared to the juicy melon [illegible] the plaintiff asserts she [illegible] the head, "thereby ruining [illegible] expensive evening gown," [illegible] was wearing.

[illegible] only a few of the realities of last year saw the [illegible] of the Mather romance, [illegible] its inception in London, [illegible] the couple were married, 1916. The recital of [illegible] and domestic affray, according to the complaint, runs somewhat [illegible]

[illegible] months before the [illegible] husband annoyed his [illegible] guests with the limerick, and on other occasions he had company he rang [illegible] clerk in an adjoining room [illegible] guests departed.

[illegible] began in April of [illegible] the complaint recites, when [illegible] clipped off the plaintiff's [illegible] beautiful blonde hair [illegible] was sleeping. After thus [illegible] her locks, he brought to [illegible] a "beautiful woman," [illegible] her as his sister and [illegible] hugged and kissed her [illegible] impudently in the plaintiff's [illegible] says the complaint, [illegible] prepared by Attorney [illegible] Piper.

[illegible] LETTER.

[illegible] it is declared, then [illegible] after belonging to her mother, [illegible] which began with "My [illegible] Snoozle," and closed [illegible] Your Only Loving [illegible]. It was then that the [illegible] the "sister," who had [illegible] killed in the wife's [illegible] was in fact no relative at [illegible] says.

[illegible] time the defendant, [illegible] the complaint, climbed [illegible] of a tree near the house [illegible] and concealing himself in the foliage, threw stones on the roof long after midnight, thus keeping the defendant from sleeping. In a few days another letter came to the wife's attention. In this the "other woman" wrote:

"My Own Dear Love, I am more than charmed to learn from you that you married your wife only for money, and that you intend to ditch her soon for me."

HIT BY MELON

Ten days later the final eruption took place when the husband hit the plaintiff over the head with a watermelon, threw a whisky flask at her and emptied a plate of hot soup in her face, she says.

All of which, the plaintiff believes, constitutes good and sufficient cause for a divorce, together with the awarding to Mrs. Mather of all the community property, including a costly new automobile now in possession of Mr. Mather, who is believed to be in San Francisco.

Maj. E. E. Kirk.

INVESTIGATING GUARD CHIEF.

Charges Involving Maj. Kirk Laid Before Governor.

Relate to "Red" Record in San Diego in 1912.

Officer Denies Any Present Sympathy With I.W.W.

Charges involving Maj. E. E. Kirk, ranking officer here of the California National Guard and appointed by Gov. Stephens some time ago as local recruiting officer for the Guard, have been laid before Gov. Stephens and are being thoroughly investigated by him, the Governor stated yesterday.

The documents, submitted to the Governor at the instance of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, are copies of the records of the indictment, trial and conviction of Maj. Kirk for conspiracy in connection with the I.W.W. troubles in San Diego in 1912 and on having to do with the recruiting officer's present attitude toward the personnel of the guard. The position of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association is that, if Maj. Kirk's ideas are still of the sort which resulted in his trial at San Diego, he is not a proper person to have charge of recruiting members of the National Guard, whose duties include the protection of the public from the possible activities of the I.W.W. and other radical organizations.

WHAT HE SAYS.

Maj. Kirk, however, states emphatically that he has renounced all affiliation and sympathy with the radical cause. He quit the Socialist party in 1916, he says. He has letters from Judge Sloane, now of the State Supreme Court, who presided at his trial, Supreme Justice Lawlor and others, stating that his conviction did not involve moral turpitude and warmly recommending him for an officer's commission. He points to his creditable record during the war, when he trained some 1800 officers at the Third and Fourth Officers Training Schools and at Camps Kearny and Fremont and states that his entire past was gone over by his superior officers before he became a major. The supplemental charge, contained in an affidavit by a local investigator and purporting to show that Maj. Kirk has favored as Guard recruits men who might unduly favor strikers in the event of labor riots, Maj. Kirk flatly denies.

THE DOCUMENTS.

The documents placed before Gov. Stephens showed that Maj. Kirk was indicted with others for conspiring to violate an ordinance passed by the city of San Diego for the purpose of prohibiting public speaking in certain districts. The testimony showed that he was attorney for the interests that sought to prevent the adoption of the ordinance and later to violate or nullify it. Witnesses testified that meetings were held in his office in San Diego and that those present, in the presence of Kirk, discussed ways and means of breaking the ordinance.

Kirk, the testimony set out, was arrested on a soap box with some thirty others taken into custody at that time, that he acted as a marshal in a parade held by the Socialist, I.W.W. and other radicals trying to break the ordinance, Kirk's own testimony, according to the documents containing the charges, showed that he was then in sympathy with the I.W.W. In his address to the jury he said: "I am not an I.W.W., but their record at any time is nothing to be ashamed of. I am not an I.W.W., but I can see no reason to be ashamed of any companionship with any of them. Not at all. Let us be fair and square. Let us not judge anything."

The testimony showed that the co-defendants of Kirk showed an utter disrespect for the laws and the courts of the State. Jack Whyte, indicted and convicted with Kirk for the conspiracy, said while being sentenced: "I have no respect for your courts, not one of them. To hell with your courts! You know what justice is."

Every motion for a new trial and for a rehearing in the Superior, Appellate and the State Supreme Courts were denied in this case. Maj. Kirk's sentence, imposed by Judge Sloane, was six months in the County Jail and $200 fine. He served only about two months and was pardoned by Gov. Johnson.

HIS STATEMENT.

Maj. Kirk's statement was as follows:

"These charges are a complete surprise to me. I have not been advised of the investigation by the Governor or any other official, so I have had no opportunity to deny or explain.

"I have in my possession letters from Supreme Court Justice Sloane, the judge who heard the case that resulted in my conviction, from Supreme Court Justice Lawlor and from Judges Lewis and Andrews of San Diego county, stating that the events nine years ago did not involve any moral turpitude and recommending me for the officer's commission. I am ready at any time to submit these letters and other evidence to overcome any charges against my past conduct and record.

"I have renounced whatever radical ideas I may have had. I never was a member of the I.W.W. then, much less recently. I renounced the Socialist party in 1916 and became a 100 per cent American. I have felt that whatever mistake in judgment may have been involved in my appearance as attorney for the Free Speech League ten years ago was a matter of regret, and that my service to my country since 1916 should be a guarantee of my good faith. I attended the Officers' Training School at Monterey, went to the First Officers' Training School and received my commission as a captain of infantry, May 13, 1917. I was senior instructor, Third Officers' Training School, senior instructor and commandant, Fourth Officers' Training

Los Angeles Men Confer With Chambers in Imperial.

Mulholland Opposes Rule of Private Interests.

Give Both Sides in Boulder Dam Controversy.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CALIPATRIA, July 29.—Representatives of the city of Los Angeles tonight told the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Imperial Valley at a special meeting here that Los Angeles does not intend to "hog" hydroelectric resources in the Boulder Canyon project, but stands ready to divide such resources with other municipalities. Chief Engineer Mulholland of the Department of Public Service said Los Angeles will not tolerate domination by the power companies.

The meeting was called so that the Imperial Valley people might hear both sides of the power controversy now centering on the Boulder Canyon project, and there were representatives of several of the power companies present. A. E. West, vice-president and general manager of the Southern Sierras Power Company; Charles E. Hamilton, chairman of the Riverside County Board of Supervisors, and J. S. Nickeson, president of the board of directors of the Imperial Irrigation District, gave the views of the interests they represent.

Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood said the power rights Los Angeles seeks are only a small part of the rights held by private corporations.

Mr. Mulholland declared Los Angeles is ready to pro rate the resources with any municipality and to make the development a municipal one, and apart from any corporation project.

W. B. Mathews, special counsel for the Los Angeles Board of Public Service Commissioners, spoke of the advantages of the Los Angeles plan as compared with the procedure of a community ceding its natural resources to a private corporation, and then buying power from the corporation.

RIVER DEVELOPMENT ROW BEFORE COUNCIL.

COLORADO POWER GRANTING TO CORPORATIONS STAND IS DEFERRED.

The Colorado River development controversy reached the City Council yesterday, and was the subject of a lively debate.

Action for the immediate indorsement of resolutions adopted by the City Attorney's Association of Southern California, opposing the granting to private corporations preceding public utilization, of the water and power resources of the river, was blocked by the opposition of Councilmen Mushet and Allan. These Councilmen, following a speech from the floor by President Criswell on behalf of immediate approval of the resolution adopted by the City Attorney's Association, stated their belief that the Council should not rush hurriedly, without investigating into the facts on both sides of the controversy, into an indorsement of the stand taken by the City Attorney's Association. As a result the resolution was referred to the Council's Public Service Committee, of which President Criswell is chairman and Councilmen Wheeler and Sparks are members.

LOSES .. HER .. LOST .. LOVE .. SUIT.

Court Finds Promise to Wed Lacks Corroboration.

Miss Lucille McCarty and Her Attorneys.

MISS Lucile McCarty, whose dream of love dissipated when William Kirkby, a Standard Oil employee, married Miss Hazel Thompson, lost her $50,000 lost-love suit in Judge Weyl's court yesterday.

Miss cCarty declared Mr. Kirkby promised to marry her and that the wedding was set for April. Mr. Kirkby denied there ever had been an engagement between them and said that while he called on Miss McCarty, he also went with other girls.

The jilting she received seriously affected Miss McCarty, she said, as she loved Mr. Kirkby.

The court declared that there was not sufficient corroboration of the engagement to marry; that if Miss McCarty had won a judgment, the award would have been nominal, as the social and financial standing of the plaintiff and defendant are not considerable. He gave judgment in favor of r. Kirkby. The latter was represented by Attorneys Muhlman and Crump, while Attorneys Haines and Verge represented the plaintiff.

AIRPLANE DEFEATED BY DEATH.

Brother Fails in Race to Reach Timothy Spellacy Before Demise.

The airplane was worsted in a race with death Thursday when Michael Spellacy of Tulsa, Okla., flew from that city to the bedside of his brother, Timothy Spellacy of this city, who died in Lima, O., at 2 p.m., Thursday. The plane was several hundred miles from Lima when Mr. Spellacy died.

News of the remarkable race with the grim reaper reached here yesterday coincident with word that Michael and Simon Spellacy, brothers of the deceased, would accompany Mrs. Timothy Spellacy to this city on Monday with the body of her husband.

According to the present arrangements the remains will reach here next Thursday. Arrangements for the funeral will not be made until the funeral party arrives.

FREED GIRL IS NABBED AS INSANE.

Edith Lundberg Arrested in Downtown Store for an Examination.

In less than three days from the time she was acquitted of a murder charge growing out of the shooting last winter of Linas F. Worden, Jr., Mrs. Edith Lundberg was again under arrest yesterday; this time on a warrant charging her with insanity. The complaint was prepared in the District Attorney's office and was signed by Superior Judge Weyl.

Detective King of the District Attorney's office, and Detective Sergeant Oakes of Central Police Station found Mrs. Lundberg in a downtown department store and took her direct to the psychopathic ward of the County Hospital, where she is to be examined.

The District Attorney, it was said yesterday, will seek to prove that the attacks of melancholia to which the woman is subject, according to the evidence brought out at the murder trial, constitute a recurrent affliction and a recognized form of insanity. The same experts who testified in her behalf at the trial will be called by the District Attorney to testify against her if she is taken before the Lunacy Commission.

HUNTED FOR MONTH, MAN SURRENDERS.

Former Realty Operator is Arrested in San Diego on Forgery Charge.

Trailed from Los Angeles to Ensenada and then to Tijuana, Mex., H. D. Brown, local real estate operator, who formerly had offices in the Wilcox Building, yesterday was arrested at San Diego on a charge of defrauding the First National Bank of Los Angeles out of several thousand dollars by means of a forged check, according to the local bureau of the William J. Burns Detective Agency.

The asserted fraud took place about a month ago when Mr. Brown is declared to have forged the name of one of his clients to a check, which practically wiped out the victim's account. The forgery passed undetected at the time because the signature in the indorsement of Mr. Brown was O.K.'d by a prominent local business man, the Burns reports show.

After the loss was reported the agency trailed Mr. Brown to Lower California, where it was found he had gone to Ensenada and later to Tijuana. Sheriff Sexson of San Diego was notified and the arrest was made yesterday by the Sheriff after Mr. Brown, reported to have been practically without funds, gave himself up.

CHANGE IN CAST MADE BY DEATH.

San Gabriel Pageant Last Thought of Mrs. Stearns Before Demise.

With the death this week of Charlotte Gleason Stearns, the cast of the San Gabriel pageant, which is to be given tomorrow, lost one of its most interested members. Mrs. Stearns was an expert horsewoman, and mounted on her own beautiful steed, was to impersonate Madame Bandini, the great aunt of the bride.

Mrs. Stearns, while rehearsing her part in the pageant, fell from her horse and was so seriously injured that she was rushed to a hospital, where every effort was made to save her life. Nothing availed, and she died within twenty-four hours and was buried at San Gabriel yesterday.

One of her last thoughts was of the pageant, and she whispered a request that Miss Marjorie Sears of Alhambra ride her horse and wear the quilted white satin gown that she herself was to wear. Miss Sears will try to smile her way through the pageant, though her heart is grieving for her friend.

Mrs. Stearns was much interested in the possibilities of pageantry and had done this work with the University of Wisconsin.

Preceding the events of tomorrow, there will be a presentation of "A Night in Old Madrid" at San Gabriel, to be followed by a street dance.

Marine Cooks, Stewards Will Return to Jobs.

By a vote of seventeen to two, the members of the Marine Cooks' and Stewards' Union, on strike at Los Angeles Harbor, last night placed themselves on record as favoring a return to work. The votes cast by the sailors and firemen will not be tabulated until this morning, but it is predicted that they, too, will strongly favor putting an end to the strike.

O'BRIEN GETS APPOINTMENT.

Will Take Up Postal Duties Next Monday.

To Resign as Head of Public Works Board.

Civil Service Test to be Held for Position.

P. P. O'Brien, president of the Los Angeles Board of Public Works, yesterday afternoon received a telegram from the Postoffice Department in Washington instructing him to take charge of the Los Angeles postoffice as acting postmaster on Monday morning. The telegram reads as follows:

"Postoffice Department, Washington, D. C., July 29, 1921. Assume charge of the Los Angeles postoffice as acting Postmaster at close of business, July 31.

[Signed] "Work, First Assistatn Postmaster-General."

Mr. O'Brien immediately notified Mayor Cryer of the receipt of the telegram, and this morning Mr. O'Brien will hand in his resignation as president of the Board of Public Works to the Mayor to take effect at once.

Mr. O'Brien said that the telegram was the first official notice he had received, although newspaper dispatches from Washington had told several days ago of the coming removal of Harrington Brown as postmaster and of the appointment of Mr. O'Brien as acting postmaster.

The news dispatches stated that a civil service examination will be held for the position and it is expected that Mr. O'Brien, because of his long public service as member and president of the Los Angeles Board of Public Works, will qualify. His formal appointment by the President will then follow and will be sent to the Senate for confirmation.

VICTIM OF APOPLEXY.

Sister of Former Mayor Sebastian Was Native of California.

After an illness of several months, Mrs. Emma Belle Swall, sister of former Mayor C. E. Sebastian and wife of Lucien T. Swall, retired rancher and oil well owner of Sherman, died of apoplexy at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Efforts are being made to locate her daughter, Mrs. Leo Frecqtal, who is touring with her husband in an automobile to Mrs. Frecqtal's former home in Wisconsin.

No other immediate relatives are left by Mrs. Swall, who was born at Ventura, where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Sebastian, now dead, were pioneer residents. Mrs. Swall was past worthy matron of the Hollywood lodge of the Order of the Eastern Star and was prominent in club circles and charity work.

Funeral arrangements await word from her daughter.

BARS LAND AT VENICE TO "ISAIAH."

A. R. Fraser Threatens to Retake Tract if "Healer" Uses It.

A. R. Fraser, known as "the father of Ocean Park," and one of the four donors of the strip of land at Venice on which "Brother Isaiah" Cudney, the "Miracle Man," has been invited to resume his faith-healing meetings next Monday, yesterday served notice upon the Board of Trustees of Venice that if the land is so utilized he will take action to have it revert to its donors on the ground that the terms laid down in the original gift have been violated.

The terms in question specified that the land should always be kept "open and unobstructed." Mr. Fraser, through his attorney, W. H. Anderson, made it clear to the trustees that he will proceed on the theory that the city has forfeited its right to the property if the "healer" is permitted to utilize it in the manner which has been planned.

The land in question, fronting on the ocean, is valued at $6,000,000, and is one of Venice's chief assets.

Solomon Barker, advertising manager for the Kinney Company, said last night when informed of the action of Mr. Fraser that, if necessary, arrangements will be made to accommodate the "healer" and his crowds on land owned by the company near the Venice bath-house. He insisted that the program of having "Brother Isaiah" start his ministrations in Venice Monday will be carried out regardless of Mr. Fraser's opposition.

CUTS SELF, LEAPS OUT OF WINDOW.

Despondent Clerk, Unable to Find Employment, Tries to Hurl Self to Death.

Despondency over his failure to find employment caused Peter Sorenson, 54 years old, a hotel clerk, to attempt suicide by cutting his wrist and leaping from the second story of the Salvation Army lodging house at 127 Wilmington street shortly before noon yesterday. His attempt was unsuccessful, surgeons at the Receiving Hospital said. He has a badly broken leg.

"I wish now that I had gone to the roof before jumping off," he told the police at the hospital. "I would have had a better chance to get away with it."

Sorenson says he has not had work since early in June and that he in penniless and without friends or relatives.

R. H. Munger, 901 San Fernando Building, a commercial artist, yesterday reported to the police that he fears Clement Brewer, a young man associated with him, has come to grief. He has not seen Mr. Brewer since Saturday, and he has an important communication for him from his home, in Trumbull, Neb.

Buescher True Tone Saxophones

The saxophone is the most popular of all instruments and within sixty days you can learn to play it—if you read music even less time will be required.

The mellow, easy-flowing notes of this instrument are especially attractive to all. With piano accompaniment for dances, parties and evenings at home. For quintet or sextette, the Saxophone holds a place that can be taken by no other instrument.

Kathryn Thompson

Prominent Los Angeles saxophone soloist and teacher, says:

Six years ago I wrote you that I had received my new gold Buescher Saxophone and was delighted with it. I have used it constantly during these six years in orchestra, for solo playing and in dance work. This means many hours in every single day, and I am proud to tell you that the instrument is WONDERFUL — and like new in every way!

Parents who have the best interests of their children at heart should investigate the possibilities of this instrument. As an aid to deep breathing and its consequent improvement in the player's health, the Saxophone is especially recommended.

Giant steam shovels were busy yesterday excavating the basement for Station C, a substation of the main postoffice, which will shortly be erected at the northeast corner of Ninth and Olive streets.

The Postoffice Department recently took a ten-year lease on the corner from James A. Anderson and Mrs. Mary Shatto. The lease is subject to renewal. Work on the new station will be pushed as rapidly as possible. Postoffice Inspector Cookson, who is superintendent of construction, says the building probably will be ready for occupancy on November 1.

The structure will be concrete and brick, of one story and a basement. It will contain 24,000 square feet of floor space, and will greatly relieve congestion at the main postoffice, Postmaster Brown says.

To Discuss Ban on Parades in Main Streets.

Police Inspector Murray's recommendation that for the prevention of congestion in the downtown sections of the city, parades be hereafter restricted to such outlying sections as Figueroa street, bore fruit yesterday when, in the City Council, Councilman Conaway moved that a conference be held with the Chamber of Commerce, Business Men's Co-operative Association and other interested organizations with a view to arriving at a solution that "will fully safeguard life and property."

Police Inspector Murray's suggestion was made, following the Elks' convention week. Had a serious fire occurred in the business section of the city during that time, Inspector Murray stated, the police and fire departments would have been seriously handicapped in their efforts, on account of the crowds.

Councilman Conaway's motion was adopted and the conference of business men, fire and police officials and Councilmen will be called at once.

Take Reputed Angeleno for Gem Smuggler

Hyman Finerman, who says he is a Los Angeles jeweler, was arrested yesterday in Chicago and charged with having smuggled into this country from Europe jewelry valued at $100,000, said a dispatch last night from Chicago. Special Agent William H. Williams of the Treasury Department avers he has information tending to show that Mr. Finerman is the head of a ring of smugglers. He predicts other arrests. The name Hyman Finerman does not appear in Los Angeles directories.

When arrested Finerman had $1800 in jewelry on his person. He arrived in New York July 1 on the steamship Aquitania. He told the Federal authorities he had stopped off in Chicago to visit relatives. He was arrested as he was about to take a train for Los Angeles.

Mr. Finerman said he had gone to Europe to see his father, and that while there his parent died. He said his relatives in Europe had given him the diamonds found on his person. He denied he had brought any more into the country.

An attempt to sell some of the diamonds led to his arrest. He was arraigned in the U. S. Commissioner's Court in Chicago, and held in bonds of $2000 on charges of smuggling and attempting to sell smuggled jewelry.

TAKEN FROM TANKER ON LARCENY CHARGE.

If Charles Mahoney, wanted here on a charge of the larceny of $9500 worth of securities from Marion O. King of this city, had not been arrested yesterday at San Luis Obispo, his next step would have been Vancouver, B. C.; but he was arrested. Mr. King charged that he had Mr. Mahoney as a passenger in an automobile on a trip from this city to San Diego, and that the latter took a suitcase containing the securities. The accused is employed on a Union Oil tanker that stopped at San Luis Obispo and was arrested there upon information furnished by Deputy Sheriff Johnson.

CHECK LEADS TO PRISON.

For the issuance of a check for $2142 to the Howard Auto Company, for which there were not sufficient funds in the bank, A. C. Boyer was sentenced to San Quentin yesterday by Judge Willis for from one to ten years. The check was on the State National Bank of El Paso, and was issued last March 28.

BOGARDUS SUGGESTED.

Social Agencies Body Recommends Appointment to Commission.

Leading members of the Alliance of Social Agencies called on Mayor Cryer yesterday in regard to the appointments to be made to the Social Service Commission, and suggested that Prof. Emory S. Bogardus of the Southern Branch of the University of California be selected for a place on the commission. The Mayor has received the resignations of President D. Joseph Coyne and several other members of the commission, but has not acted on them. The present board has been subject to attack at various times by the Alliance, and yesterday the visiting delegation, which included Miss Mary Workman, Mrs. Charles F. Gray, Mrs. E. K. Foster and several others, laid the history of the controversies before the Mayor.

DRY AGENTS DEPART.

Boone and McShane Commend Work of Enforcement Men Here.

Prohibition Agents Boone and McShane, who have been checking up the affairs of the local prohibition enforcement officers for several days, left for their headquarters at San Francisco last night.

They praised the manner in which the local business had been done by Agent O'Leary, and those intrusted with the enforcement of the liquor laws, and found the invoice of the liquors on hand was correct.

LAFAYETTE DAY FEST PLANS ARE FORMED.

Plans for the Lafayette Day celebration to be held September 16 were laid yesterday when a number of local men attended a luncheon given by the Lafayette Society of California at Maurice's, 715 West Seventh street. Committees were appointed by Lucien Brunswig, president, and Willis M. Dixon, secretary of the organization. The celebration will be held in Lafayette Park. A committee of arrangements with W. H. Workman as chairman was appointed and a committee headed by Orra E. Monnette was named to act as hosts.

ARREST HALTS HONEYMOON.

Witness in Robbery Case, Taken from Arms of Bride, Freed.

William Jenkins, colored, was married last Thursday, and late in the evening officers went to his house and arrested him on a contempt charge. He was a defaulting witness in a highway robbery case on trial in Judge Conley's court.

When Judge Conley heard that William had become a Benedict, and was taken from his bride of a few hours, he said he would discharge the contempt order.

"Why didn't you tell me you were going to be married?" queried the judge. "I would not have allowed your honeymoon to be interrupted."

"Yes, sir," replied William. "They not only disrupted my honeymoon, but they put me in jail."

Child, Property and Decree Won by Suing Wife.

Mrs. Edith Dorothy Johnson was awarded a decree of separate maintenance from Arthur Johnson by Judge Summerfield yesterday, on the ground of cruelty. She also was awarded the custody of a minor child. Virtually all of the property was declared held in common, and an equal division was made between husband and wife. The home on South Cimarron street was included in the wife's portion. The court named R. O. Bell as appraiser of the property, which has a value of about $75,000.

The case was tried some time ago and was hotly fought. Mrs. Johnson was represented by Attys. Griffith Jones and John Craig.

OFF TO MOUNTAINS.

U. S. District Judges Sawtelle and Trippet will leave this morning for the latter's mountain ranch, near Squirrel Inn, where they will spend several weeks. Judge Trippet will spend his vacation there, and Judge Sawtelle is trying to recover from a severe illness that has kept him enfeebled several months.

TWO FINED FOR GIVING BAD WEIGHT.

Had to Chip Ice to Fit in Family Refrigerator, One's Unavailing Explanation.

Two more sellers of short-weight merchandise were in Police Judge Chesebro's court yesterday and each was fined $30 for mulcting customers, as a result of the continued activities of the county department of weights and measures.

Felice Lombardo, proprietor of a refreshment stand at 210 Sunset Boulevard, was arrested by Inspectors C. J. Buck and V. J. Gray, after he had sold to Mr. Buck what purported to be a quart of ice cream. The cardboard container was not filled to the top by a margin of one inch, Mr. Buck told the court.

The second man to learn yesterday that delivering short weight is a costly business is Harry Smith, 660 San Fernando street. He was charged with selling eighty pounds of ice to Mrs. A. E. Long, 975 Fourth avenue, and delivering only sixty-two pounds. Smith, who is employed by C. M. Davis, attempted to explain that the difference of eighteen pounds was due to the fact that it was necessary for him to chip some pieces off the cake of ice to make it fit in the Long family's refrigerator.

Inspector Buck declared yesterday that persons who purchase ice cream by liquid measure, such as a pint or a quart, should make sure that the dealer packs the frozen dessert down into the container and fills the latter to the very brim. Otherwise they are getting short weight, he declared.

BOARD ADMITS ROAD BETTERMENT BENEFIT.

STATE COMMISSION, HOWEVER, SAYS COST WILL EXCEED HIGHWAY FUND.

The California Highway Commission, in a statement issued yesterday, concedes the truth of the statements made by the associations urging a better type of roads, but declares that the cost would be greatly in excess of the amount available.

"It is both the thought and the effort of the California Highway Commission," says the statement, "to carry out the will of the people. Up to the present that will has been expressed in the bond issues which the people have voted. Through these bond acts there has been established a State system of 5540 miles of roads and $72,000,000 in bonds have been voted to build it. "The last $40,000,000 bond issue was budgeted—$20,000,000 to complete the original system, and $20,000,000 for thirty-one new routes which a convention of the people and the Legislature added to the old system. The California Highway Commission has considered these actions of the people as mandates to build a system of serviceable roads as economically as possible, consistent with sound engineering and due regard for present and future traffic. At all times the pressure upon the commission has been for mileage.

"Realizing, however, the great increase in highway traffic the California Highway Commission since the last bond issue has increased the strength of its concrete highways from 75 per cent to 200 per cent, depending upon the volume of traffic and subgrade conditions. The additional expense involved in strengthening the concrete base and treating the subgrade wherever necessary, together with high material and labor prices, has vastly increased construction costs over the estimates on which the last bond issue was based and President Valentine is right in saying that there are not sufficient funds in sight to complete the State system.

"The minimum specification recommended by the automobile clubs is six inches thick, eighteen feet wide, and will cost about $39,000 per mile. Its six-inch, twenty-foot slab will cost $42,000 per mile; its eight-inch, eighteen-foot slab, $53,000; its eight-inch, twenty-foot slab, $58,000, and its eight-inch, twenty-four-foot pavement $67,000 per mile. These are rough figures of typical sections, but are based on today's costs and are fairly accurate.

"Applying these recommended types to the mileage still to be paved and we will have a total cost to complete the paved roads alone of $67,274,200. If the 1800 miles of hard-surfaced State highways now in service are to be brought up to a similar standard we will need an additional $60,000,000, and we will still need $56,000,000 to construct the 1880 miles of mountainous grades and graveled highways as yet untouched."

Wife with Gun Routs Bandit, Saves Husband.

When two automobile bandits attempted to hold up G. A. Sparks at his garage, 2818 North Main street, early yesterday morning, they failed to reckon with Mrs. Emma Sparks, his wife. As a result they turned from their task of intimidating Mr. Sparks to gaze into the business end of a shotgun held uncomfortably close to their heads by Mrs. Sparks. They fled.

According to a report made to the police the two men appeared at the garage in an automobile and awakened Mr. Sparks on the pretense of wanting to store their car. When Mr. Sparks responded and opened the door they covered him with revolvers. Mr. Sparks protested and attracted the attention of his wife, who, leaping from her bed, seized the shotgun and ran to her husband's aid. Police are searching for the bandits.

TRUSTEES IN COURT.

Attorneys for Venice Officials Say Malfeasance Charge Unwarranted.

Presiding Judge Shenk yesterday assigned to Judge Reeve's court for trial the suit against certain trustees of Venice, indicted by the grand jury for purported malfeasance in office, A. E. Coles and John G. Harrah, two of the accused trustees, were in Judge Shenk's court. Their attorneys contend that the accusations do not state sufficient facts upon which to base the action brought.

BUSINESS OF DISARMING.

Henry Ford is supposed to be an eager and insistent champion of disarmament. The way to disarm is to disarm. If Henry would stop making his fussy road rabbits it would help. In one way or another he has killed off more people than meet death in an ordinary war.

IN THE RIGHT PLACE.

When it comes to pumping stations the human heart is Johnny on the spot. It is capable of pumping 750 cubic inches a minute and every drop of blood in the human body goes through it a dozen times a day. Next time you are out with the right girl call her attention to its splendid capacity and ask her if she doesn't want to take command.

FOR PERMANENT PEACE.

The Japanese National Chamber of Commerce pleads earnestly for national disarmament. It represents the people of Japan more closely than do the jingo politicians and firebrands of the island empire. The average citizen of Japan prays as heartily as any man on earth for peace. If he had his will he would junk his warships for all time.

THROUGH THE EYE.

Out of 200 pupils in an Evanston school 130 voted a preference for motion pictures over text-books for instruction. In natural history, for instance, it was found that more practical information was imparted in fifteen minutes of moving pictures than in six half-hour lessons from the text-books. There is certainly a wonderful field for the films in the schools. The ground hasn't even been tickled.

THE BIGGEST CITY.

Counting the latest annexations, the City Engineer is able to report the total area of Los Angeles at 366 square miles. This is the greatest city in America when it comes to ground work. No pent-up Isle of Manhattan contracts our powers. The Los Angeles limits bathe in the blue waters of the Pacific and then run with scurrying feet over the hills and far away. There is nothing quite like it or quite as vast in America.

UP IN THE AIR.

An Italian inventor has put forth what he calls a falcoplane. It flies like a hawk. The big idea is movable planes or wings that permit the machine to rise almost perpendicularly from the ground—and without any run-off. He also claims the possibility of a speed of 300 miles an hour. The Italians have made much progress in aviation and are not to be sneezed at in computing perfection. They are not only birds of song but birds of sustained flight.

NEW PATTERNS IN CHINA.

Instead of being broken China is becoming polished. The old wall in the ancient city of Canton is being torn down to make room for modern buildings and boulevards. The city is seeking information regarding playgrounds, community houses, traffic regulation and other new-fangled things. First thing we know they will be having municipal graft in some bridge contract and then we will know that Canton has become thoroughly modernized.

HIGH FINANCE.

The government is said to owe the railroads something like $1,350,000,000. Some of the roads are said to be indebted to the government to the tune of about $500,000,000. Financial sharps in the Treasury Department are trying to figure out a program whereby the government will compromise its obligations to the railroads for $500,000,000 in cash and at the same time arrange a schedule of payments by which the roads will have ten years in which to settle the half-billion owing the government—with interest at 6 per cent. If this can be accomplished it might properly be described as high finance.

THE BEAUTY SHOP.

It would seem that an ordinary man would need protection from the hazards of the modern beauty shop, but it appears that the beauty specialists are also seeking a protection of their own. In Illinois they are pressing a law which has already been reported out and which provides that all persons engaged in the business of beautifying the human body shall pass an examination and take out a license the same as a dentist or surgeon. It is claimed that there are a lot of massage and manicure parlors that are really flirtation centers. There are beauty shops that serve rather as a rendezvous for lovers. Likewise there are dabblers in cosmetics and complexion aids who really know nothing of their art. They are more apt to do a lasting harm than a temporary good. There are some face bleaches and preparations that are dangerous unless administered by skilled hands. It is to save our womanhood from the birds of prey that the new law is proposed. It is purposed to punish the dame who advertises to furnish a "permanent wave" and then administers it with a clothes wringer. Likewise the fairy who promises to take off a double chin with a dozen rubbings of skin bleach will have to deliver the goods. In other words, the genuine beauty specialists and cosmeticians want to fix it so that no one not trained to their liking can administer physical treatment to those who would be handsome. They would have no triflers.

NO GARBAGE IN OURS.

The Board of Supervisors is to be congratulated on its stand by which it has forbidden as a criminal offense the feeding of garbage to hogs in Los Angeles county under such conditions as have obtained hitherto. To the members of the board which voted unanimously for this measure the citizens of the entire county send their hearty thanks, coupled with these words of advice: "Don't weaken. Stand pat. Stand firm. Public health comes before private profit. Tell the feeders of rotten garbage that they are in an 1865 business in the year 1921, and that, in the words of the negro preacher, the world has done moved."

The Supervisors may expect to receive protests from those cities in the county which continue to turn over their ancient garbage to contractors who feed the filth to hogs outside of the cities and then sell the hogs for food in the very cities from which the garbage came. Once the contractors see that the Supervisors are not to be swayed from their public-spirited stand in the interest of the general health of the community the garbage contractors, groaning and protesting, will change the character of their business, feed the hogs on other provender, and in a few months the people of the county, including those municipal officials who are protesting at the necessity of modernizing the business of disposing of their city wastes, will look back in horror at the thought of a city in Los Angeles county feeding its decayed garbage to hogs. Such has been the history of every progressive step—protests, reluctant reconstruction and then, straight ahead for another progressive step. Yes, the world does move, creakingly but surely.

While the action of the Supervisors is one which will redound to their credit, there is not a member of the Los Angeles City Council, which went out of office on July 4 last, who can point with pride to his vote in favor of bartering the health of the people of the city and county for dollars. A mess of garbage that smelt to heaven was the bait which lured the Councilmen into an action which, if allowed to stand, would, at one stroke, have jeopardized the health of the people of the city for ten long years. To the credit of Councilmen Sanborn and Conaway and of President Boyle Workman may it be recorded that in opposing the approval of the now notorious Whitman contract, they warned their fellow-Councilmen of the storm that was to follow. The predictions of the opposing Councilmen have come true, and long after Whitman and his associates have been forgotten the final act of the City Council of 1920-1921 will be remembered as one of the greatest exhibitions of stupidity ever recorded in any American city.

The defense of the Councilmen who voted for the acceptance of the Whitman bid was that the city was hard up and needed the money. Now a really popular move to raise funds would have been to have offered for sale that old architectural relic, the Los Angeles City Hall, the one Cabrillo discovered when he came to California. But, no! The city needed the money. The promoters promised 96 cents a ton for the garbage and the Councilmen fell. They specified, however, that the garbage must be removed by the contractor outside of the city. And then, led by Supervisor Cogswell, the Supervisors took heed of the tremendous objection which arose from all parts of the county and, with memories of the conditions which prevailed in 1911, when, in response to an outcry from the entire San Gabriel Valley and backed up by a grand jury report which told of appalling conditions at the farms where Los Angeles garbage was fed to hogs, the city turned to machinery as a means of disposing of its garbage.

All of these facts the Councilmen who voted to sell the garbage of the city to hog-feeders seem to have forgotten. But the people of the county and the Supervisors still had fresh in their minds the scandal of 1911. Under the terms of the ordinance adopted last week such handling of garbage in Los Angeles county will become but a malodorous memory.

The action of the Supervisors is in line with the trend of the times. Pittsburg, Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia and Toledo and other great American cities long ago abandoned as unsanitary the feeding of garbage to hogs. In Minneapolis the District Court ordered the garbage-feeding farm closed as a menace to the health of the people of the city. Buffalo, among the few remaining municipalities which cling to the old method, maintains an elaborate farm, and its equipment includes large fields of clover into which the hogs are turned at frequent intervals to supplement their garbage dinners.

The hog is a natural scavenger and feeding him with fresh garbage in small quantities under sanitary conditions is unobjectionable. In fact, it is a good way both to get rid of the garbage and to fatten the hog. It does not harm the pork nor is it a nuisance. But the experience of Los Angeles, hard-bought through half a dozen garbage scandals, has shown that such conditions are impossible to attain when the garbage is handled in great quantities and allowed to stand for days in a loading station.

Here representatives of the Whitman syndicate, beaten at every turn, pleaded in vain with the present City Council for additional time in which to arrange to defy the Supervisors. The promoters had the effrontery to tell the Councilmen that the Supervisors, as a result of the threats of the garbage contractors of the county, would back down and repeal the prohibitory ordinance. The Times is confident that this statement is as baseless in fact as have been all of the other claims made by the Whitman syndicate.

The Times is confident that the Board of Supervisors will not be intimidated into reversing its stand for the protection of the health of the people of the county. The board's action has likewise protected the people of the city of Los Angeles from the dangerous folly of the City Council. In all fairness the Supervisors should give those towns still selling their garbage to hog-feeders additional time, if necessary, to rearrange the garbage disposal of these municipalities on a modern basis. But threats of court action to test the constitutionality of the county ordinance should and will not swerve the board.

THE SOUP BONE.

Under the skill of a surgeon a boiled soup bone was made to take the place of a badly broken arm in the case of a patient in a London hospital. They may be able to make a ball player out of him yet.

PROTECTING OUR HIGHWAYS.

The Los Angeles Board of Supervisors has taken a firm stand against the frequent cutting of improved roads, a practice that has, unfortunately, been growing to an alarming extent. The Supervisors, in the form of resolutions, have adopted a policy to require the greatest care in granting permits to cut paved street and road surfaces, so that the least possible damage shall be done to the pavement and with the least possible inconvenience or interruption to traffic.

The position taken by the Los Angeles Supervisors is one that can well be commended to other counties, to municipalities and the State. Many millions of dollars have been invested in improved roads by the people of this State. It is a wise and profitable investment because good roads play so important a part in the growth and development of the community. It is just as much a part of wisdom to protect and conserve an asset of such great value.

In connection with declaring its policy and in taking measures to remedy the situation the Board of Supervisors calls attention to the fact that road pavements are frequently cut for the purpose of laying pipes and wires for utilities. Some glaring instances were cited by Supervisor Woodley. He said that a stretch of highway from Santa Monica avenue to La Brea was dug up twice within thirty days of the date of its completion and that other new pavements have suffered in a similar way.

The situation calls for both foresight and vigilance. So far as can be determined, provision for pipes, wires or conduits should be made before a road is paved. In many instances apparently no effort has been made to consider utility requirements in advance of paving with the result that new work has been cut up and replaced with patchwork. Such negligence is nothing less than wanton waste and destruction.

Besides looking ahead to the requirements of the future it will also be necessary for the authorities to use the utmost vigilance in protecting paved roads against thoughtless or ruthless destruction. The Los Angeles Supervisors are setting an excellent example in this respect when they undertake to restrict the cutting to the smallest possible amount and also to guard against interference with traffic beyond what is absolutely necessary.

Our roads represent so huge an investment and the use of them is of such great economic value that they are entitled to full measure of protection. Other Boards of Supervisors should adopt the policy declared by the Los Angeles board and all organizations that can properly interest themselves in the matter should lend their assistance.

The Automobile Club of Southern California, with its staff of engineers and well-equipped field organizations, could properly and efficiently take helpful steps in protecting roads from unnecessary cutting and patching. The State authorities have been charged with failure to enforce the laws regulating excessive loading and speeding of trucks. It may be, also, that the State has been negligent in looking ahead of highway construction and has therefore failed to prevent cutting of new highways. It cannot be denied that some damage has been done to costly paved highways by heavily loaded trucks used in State construction. If the State authorities are recreant in protecting highways as well as in properly building them they are doubly deserving of censure by the people.

Responsibility for protecting our highway investment, furthermore, rests on the public generally. Thoughtfulness and careful usage on the part of everybody will prevent untold loss in the form of repair costs and traffic hindrances.

REDUCING TAXATION.

President Harding has informed the members of his Cabinet and Republican leaders in both houses of Congress that more speed and diligence must be shown in the revision of the internal revenue laws. He pointed out that promises of economic administration go for naught so long as the Democratic tax levies remain in force. The Republican party pledged itself to a reduction of taxation. Five months have passed without a fulfillment of those pledges. Talking economy is a mere waste of words so long as the tax burden is not actually lightened.

Many of the tax measures adopted by the Democrats have failed of the purpose for which they were intended. One of the fundamental objections to them is that they have served to drive capital out of industry. The Democratic effort to keep the first-class postal rate at 2 cents an ounce in order to curry favor with the masses has resulted in a heavy postal deficit. The excess-profits taxes now produce little actual revenue, for the good and sufficient reason that excess profits exist only in memory. They disappeared with inflated war values.

Removal of the excess-profits tax has been generally agreed upon. Its effect on industry has been marked. The immediate result was an increase in the sale price of most manufactured articles; for the manufacturer at once passed the extra expense along to the wholesaler, the wholesaler to the jobber, the jobber to the retailer and the retailer to the ultimate consumer; and the latter found that he was paying in the increased cost of things about three times the amount of tax that the government received. It had the further tendency to drive capital out of business. There are now floating about the country billions of dollars of Federal, State and municipal securities that are wholly or very nearly exempt from taxation and that can be purchased at a price which yields 6 per cent to the holder. Every dollar in these securities is withdrawn from productive industry, with the result that with all our wealth there is a dearth of capital for investment in industries that are employers of labor. This condition is a factor in the amount of unemployment in the country.

It is also proposed to reduce the surtax on big incomes; for the effect of this tax has also been to cause capital to seek investment in nontaxable securities. In 1916 there were more than 200 capitalists in the United States with taxable incomes in excess of $1,000,000 annually. The average rate which they would now have to pay on those incomes is about 65 per cent. Last year the number had fallen to sixty-five; and it is estimated that there will not be more than twenty-five such incomes this year. Taxing dollars out of business is deadly to industrial prosperity.

In order to prevent a further deficit in postal revenues it is proposed to increase the first-class postal rate to 3 cents an ounce. That the postal service should be self-supporting is axiomatic. There is no valid reason why the sender of a letter should not pay the cost of delivery. Some one has to pay it and the person who receives the service should bear the expense.

There is a difference of opinion in administration circles concerning the advisability of enacting a sales tax at this time to make up possible deficits by the removal of other taxes. President Harding has not ceased to hope that sufficient economies in administration can be effected to make such a tax unnecessary; although it is generally conceded if a supplemental tax must be levied the tax on sales is more equitable than any other yet proposed. Several Congressional leaders express the opinion that the economy program of the administration will make this tax unnecessary. If this should prove to be true the ultimate consumers will have reason to congratulate themselves that efficiency has finally been restored to the Federal service.

For eight years the Democrats talked economy and multiplied taxes. Not one of their retrenchment promises ever reached fulfillment. The people are now looking to a Republican administration for less conversation and more action. They will be convinced that real economy has set in only when they see their tax bills reduced.

Thursday has been selected as Potato Day and the time might be profitably spent in locating, if possible, where the difference between what the grower gets and what the ultimate consumer has to pay manages to go. Nobody seems to know.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

TOO MUCH TALK.

With all the news I keep in touch
And I'm forever reading of delegates who talk too much, whose tongues are always speeding. And some are men of high estate and some obscure and humble; and when they're called on to orate, like busy bees they bumble. They see a large, attentive crew to hear their spiel collected, and they tell all they ever knew and all they e'er suspected.
Warmed by grape juice or lemon pop, they set the language flowing, they can't remember when to stop and don't know where they're going. And when the ghastly morning breaks they get the daily papers and read, with many piebald aches, the story of their capers. When they behold their words in print they know they left their bases, and sweat, of deep magenta tint, rolls down their furrowed faces. And then in cold despair they rise and frame excuses neatly: "The blamed reporters, blank their eyes, misquoted us completely." But none believes this tawdry tosh, none likes the whining groaner, and stale excuses will not wash when one has pulled a boner.
Man would such dire disaster dodge if he would can the spieling and spend the long hours in his lodge and knock flies off the ceiling.

WALT MASON.

CLINGING VINES.

BY HARRY BOWLING

On the banks of the San Carlos River a giant Cedrela had pushed his towering trunk 300 feet above the tangle of the sweltering everglade.

From his lofty eminence he looked down into the sea of tropical verdure beneath. And his soul was tranquil, his heart was unafraid.

Patiently, persistently, year after year, he had fought the jungle till he found the sky line. He was satisfied with nature, with destiny, with himself. His position was assured and unassailable.

And it came to pass one day that a tiny seed fell into the corpse of a parrot and was fertilized. And from that tiny seed a thin, green thread of finest silk peeped out among the buttressed roots that, like wooden walls, anchored the giant Cedrela to the bedrock.

The tender, graceful threads, pushing tentatively upward from the soft mush of the jungle, found the new, warm, moist world above a goodly place to live in. Suppliant and uncertain as babies' fingers, they sought support from the iron trunk-roots of the monarch.

But the huge Cedrela felt nothing of the baby fingers fumbling at his feet in the nether twilight of the reeking undergrowth.

Yet wherever they touched they clung, and wherever they clung they climbed, and wherever they climbed they never let loose.

The lithe liana was dissatisfied with nature, with destiny, with herself. She was but the sport growth of a passing whim and she hated her dependence.

By and by the big Cedrela felt a strange, new warmth pulsing through all his being. And behold! the two-hundred sturdy feet of gaunt, bare trunk that supported his green crown was bare no longer; but draped, festooned and garlanded with a delicious embroidery, exquisite to the eye and comforting to the touch.

The soul of the Cedrela glowed with his new triumph and a creeping content was born in the heart of the liana.

But now the first fine tendrils of the vine were thick as whipcord and taut as violin strings. And the liana climbed and grew and grew and climbed till the flossy foliage reached the shoulders of the giant; and whenever his green head bowed in the summer breeze the lithe liana leaped to kiss the swaying twigs and leaves. And wherever they kissed, they killed.

So at last a haunting doubt found lodgment in the soul of the Cedrela.

For as soon as the liana reached the goal of his emerald crown the tendrils around his trunk dropped their soft disguise. And when the disguise was thrown off the whipcords turned into steel cables, crushing their way into the very heart of the Cedrela. And far above the tangle of the sweltering everglade she smothered his breath with the wealth of her embraces.

Then one sad day, oppressed, overburdened, leaden-hearted, the forest king began to reel and totter. Slowly, slowly the liana sucked the life blood from his once sturdy form and sent it hissing into the cords and cables of her own lithe body to kill him with the glory of his own immortal strength.

After the period of fruition was passed she flaunted her crimson flag of victory three hundred feet above the unregarded spot where once a tiny seed had been fertilized in the corpse of a parrot.

Till one wild night, when a tropical hurricane swept up the valley of the San Carlos, the great Cedrela crashed downward through the underbrush and carried with him the liana and her crimson victory into the graveyard of the wilderness.

Travelers from the United States have christened that terrible liana "the strangler vine." But natives of Costa Rica call it in simple Spanish "La Mujer."

METROPOLITAN LIFE.

The smallest street in New York, located near two busy thoroughfares, is Edgar street. It extends from Greenwich street to Trinity Place. It is fifty-seven feet long on the northern side and fifty-three feet on the southern side and is less than twenty-five feet wide.

In the basement window of a house on Eighth street a sign tells you "I teach folks how to Read and Rite and do Figgers in their heads."

A well-dressed man was walking past an uptown apartment-house when a flower pot toppled off a second-story window sill and landed with a crash on his hat. As he viewed his ruined headgear he heard a woman generously say: "Too bad! It was my best geranium."

On a fence surrounding a Staten Island garden is nailed this sign: "Take notis, all poultrie introodin on this here premisis will be beheded and devoured by John Henry."

"I don't notice that prohibition has cut down the number of men as rides by their 'stations!'" said a grizzled subway guard on the night shift. "We still have the all-night tourist who can't decide where to get off and just rides back and forth."

A dancing school on Upper Third avenue advertises that "every season we have hundreds of pupils who have failed through faulty methods."

The most popular thing in the demonstration garden in Union Square Park is the tobacco. Its progress is eagerly watched by hundreds during their luncheon hour.

To this day above a few shops in New York can be seen wooden bull's heads, the original gilt paint long worn off. At one time a hundred such heads, sparkling new, marked the chain shops of an independent butchers' association which tried to fight the meat trust. The proposition was started by Olliver Summer Teal thirty-five years ago and quickly failed.—[New York World.

JAILS RANCHER AS GIRL TELLS.

Prominent Ontario Man Faces Statutory Charge.

Father of Fifteen-Year-Old Child Complainant.

Lap Dog and Dead Man Figure in Another Tangle.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ONTARIO, July 29.—Ezra Davis Mosher, well-to-do and prominent rancher, was arrested here late this afternoon, charged with a statutory offense against Lela Bernice Glenn, 15-year-old daughter of W. B. Glenn, superintendent of his big alfalfa and dairy ranch in Riverside Drive, to the southeast of Ontario. According to Mr. Glenn, who has been in Mr. Mosher's employ for more than three years, he recently became suspicious that all was not right between his daughter and the rancher and today, with Mrs. Glenn's aid, succeeded in drawing from the girl a confession of her relations with Mr. Mosher.

According to the girl's story, as related to the authorities, the rancher has been guilty of illicit relations with her on three different occasions. Mr. Mosher is 51 years of age and has a wife with whom he makes his home at 1422 North Euclid avenue. There are no children. The rancher appeared greatly broken up at his arraignment this evening before Judge George R. Holbrook, who fixed his bail at $2500, and when Mosher replied that he would not furnish bail, turned him over to the custody of the Sheriff to await preliminary examination, which will probably be held early in the coming week.

Mr. Mosher has made his home in this section for a number of years and since he and his wife recently moved to the Euclid-avenue address they have been more or less prominent socially. Questioned regarding the case, the rancher declined to discuss it at all at this time.

ENTER THE DOG.

That the dog which Edith M. Soule charged her husband with allowing to remain in the house while they dined, in her action against him for divorce on mental cruelty grounds, is her own property, having been received by her as a gift and that he had nothing to say about the animal, was the allegation today of John A. Soule in filing a demurrer to his wife's complaint through his attorney, Archie D. Mitchell.

Filing of the divorce by Mrs. Soule followed the arrest of Mr. Soule some weeks ago on charges of having committed a serious statutory offense against pretty 14-year-old Pauline Huff of Denver, Colo., his wife's niece. The case was dismissed at the preliminary examination before Judge George R. Holbrook and Mr. Soule declared at the time that the case was a frame-up of which his wife was at the bottom, alleging that she was anxious to be rid of him since he had discovered that she was not legally divorced from a former husband at the time of her marriage to him ten years ago.

ATTACK CHARGE.

Soule was charged with criminally attacking his wife's young niece one Sunday afternoon in the office of a local undertaking establishment in which the body of the girl's grandfather was lying in state, while awaiting the arrival of the undertaker with whom they had an appointment.

Soule now declares that his wife is anxious to be rid of him that she may be free to wed another. Besides the charge relative to the door, Mrs. Soule charges her spouse with mental cruelty in that he made the remark to her that the years of his married life had been wasted.

The husband declares that his wife admitted to him that she knew she had no grounds for divorce, but that she brought the action so that he would file a cross-complaint, obtain a decree and set her free. The case has not yet been set for hearing.

THE UNEXPECTED.

After having peddled fish in Ontario and Upland for a meager living for many years, P. J. Boehm, well-known character hereabouts, was comparatively on "easy street" today, following the sale of some supposedly worthless and all but forgotten oil stock in which he invested more than fifteen years ago, for $30,000.

Boehm bought the stock during an oil craze in Colorado for $1500, the sum representing practically his entire savings at that time. As the years rolled by and the stock failed to bear fruit, its owner decided that like thousands of others, he had made a poor investment and the handsome certificates that he had received at the time of his purchase were forgotten.

Yesterday, like the proverbial bolt from a clear sky came the cash offer for the stock and after many hours of diligent searching, the certificates were found in the bottom of an old trunk and exchanged for the $30,000.

SANTA MONICA'S BUDGET.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, July 29.—Approximate expenditures for the city of Santa Monica for the fiscal year ending June 30, next, are given today by Frank J. Townsend, Commissioner of Finance, as $254,997.80. This, it is stated, will cover all city departments, including municipal water. Of this total, it is estimated that $30,793.71 will be needed for music, entertainment and advertising.

PASADENA HAS RECORD MONTH.

Building Permits Soar Above Those of Year Ago.

Relatives Hear of Drowning of Popular Girl.

Police Continue to Question Mrs. Doty's Family.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, July 29.—This city during July has broken all building records of the city for a single month. At the close of business today the total building permits for July were $675,047. The biggest previous month was February, 1913, when the total was $644,534. This month's total is more than twice as large as for July last year, when the total was $335,594.

La Canada elementary school district wants to be annexed to the high school district of Pasadena, while South Santa Anita wants to withdraw from this high school district and send its older pupils to the Monrovia High School. These matters were presented to the Pasadena Board of Education today, by petition. No action was taken on the petitions today. At present, La Canada is in the Glendale High School District.

When on their way to Pasadena for a visit, Mrs. C. W. Kilmer, formerly of Pasadena, and her infant daughter, were drowned when a bridge on which the Kilmer family was trying to cross a flooded area in Wyoming was swept away. Of the expedition only Mr. Kilmer and a 2-year-old son were saved. Mr. Kilmer was driving the car.

News of the tragedy was received today by Mr. and Mrs. John Ross, 598 Prescott street, uncle and aunt of Mrs. Kilmer, who were expecting the Kilmer family here for a visit.

Mrs. Kilmer was formerly Miss Stella Ross. Before her marriage she made her home here with her uncle and aunt and was a graduate of Pasadena High School, where she was very popular.

The Kilmer family was motoring to Pasadena from Albert Lea, Minn.

The family of Mrs. Winona Doty, who died Wednesday from strychnine poisoning, was closely questioned today by Chief of Police C. H. Kelley. Chief Kelley said, after the conference, that he was convinced that the death of Mrs. Doty was accidental and that no blame should be attached to the family. It was brought out that Mr. Doty, who enlisted in the World War, despite his 42 years at the time of his enlistment and was gassed overseas, had been taking tablets containing some strychnine, for an affection of his heart. These tablets were in a box originally used for another medicine.

Mr. Doty and his daughter and oldest son said they were aware that this box contained his medicine, but their mother may not have been aware of it. It required more than five of the tablets taken at one time to make a fatal dose. The family told the police that Mrs. Doty had been despondent because of Mr. Doty's war experiences and crop failures on their farm in Montana.

Among the interesting visitors in Pasadena this month is Dr. Thomas McClelland, president emeritus of Knox College, Galesburg, Ill. He was called here by the serious illness of his brother, Robert McClelland of Omaha, who was operated upon recently at the Pasadena Hospital and is gradually improving. Dr. McClelland was president of Knox College for seventeen years and has long been a member of the Carnegie Foundation.

JAPS MAKE RAID UPON FISHERMEN.

Aided by Russians They Put Santa Monica Anglers to No Small Loss.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, July 29.—What the Santa Monica police characterize as a pirate fish raid by Japanese and Russian fishermen, who filled 150 boats, off the Municipal Pier this morning, cut the lines of many pier anglers, drove the fish away, and, according to police report, disturbed the municipal life lines. Officers Craig and Pierce were rushed to the ocean front, but there was little they could do, but gather facts that form the basis of a complaint the city is making to the State Game and Fish Commission. It is charged that the Japanese and Russian fishermen were within the legal three-mile limit within which net fishing is forbidden, that the offenders were abusive and threatening to anglers on the piers, near which the fishing launches came and that all the occupants of the boats appeared to be armed. Pier anglers threaten to carry shotguns to the pier and load them with bird shot so as to be prepared for the next raid of the net fishermen. The nets this morning were spread over a wide range, it is charged, in search of anchovies which are used for bait in going after deep-sea fish.

The Santa Monica authorities state that shore fishing has suffered greatly in the last few years from these net anglers, and the appeal to the State will be on the ground that something must be done at once to save the sport.

M'COMB'S NAME IS MENTIONED.

Clara Mullicane Testifies of Sister's Infatuation.

Evidence to Show Banker Was Babe's Father Barred.

State's Motion to Dismiss Case Denied by Judge.

The name of W. Elmer McComb, purported father of Erie Mullicane's babe, crept into the records of the trial of Miss Mullicane, charged with the murder of her child, in Judge Houser's court yesterday. Miss Clara Mullicane, her 15-year-old sister, testified that in Lebanon, Mo., where the Mullicanes lived, Mr. McComb, vice-president of the First National Bank of that city, kept company with Erie. He is 50 and she 20 years of age.

"My sister would talk about nothing else but Mr. McComb," she declared. "Just before she left for California, she cried a great deal."

An effort on the part of Attorney Willson to introduce telegrams from Mr. McComb, the purport of which was to show that he was the father of her child and promised to marry her, was defeated by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Randall, who objected to the evidence, and the court ruled it out.

SAYS NOT NORMAL.

Dr. Charles L. Allen was called by the defense just before court adjourned, and a hypothetical question was put to him, the purport of which was to show that at the time the babe died Miss Mullicane was insane. He replied that it was not the act of a normal mind. He was on the stand when the court adjourned until Monday.

At the conclusion of the testimony of Dr. Louis Weber, called by the prosecution earlier in the day, that at the time the babe was born Erie Mullicane was not responsible for her acts, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Randall, in a feeling statement, moved that the court instruct the jury to return a verdict of not guilty.

The spectators signaled their delight at this suggestion by bursting into applause. This called down upon the women and girls a sharp reprimand from the court. He said he did not want that thing to happen again.

DENIED BY COURT.

Attorney Willson, chief counsel for the defense, joined in the motion. He said he would make the motion in behalf of his client.

"I am sorry that I cannot agree with you," said the court. "I feel that this case must go to the jury." He further stated that if the facts assumed are decided to be true, then it might be a proper case for the court to advise the jury to acquit, but as the case stood the court could not do it.

FINED, GOES TO JAIL.

Francisco Ramirez, pleaded guilty to a violation of the national prohibition law in U. S. District Judge Trippet's court yesterday, and was fined $225. He will remain in the Orange County Jail until the penalty is paid.

ELITE GREETED IN BOOZE RAID.

Woman Bootlegger Suspect Had Rich Customers, the Police Declare.

Mrs. Mary Corgia, 3314 East First street, held by the police on a charge of operating a bootlegging establishment, had an extremely fashionable clientele, according to police, who are holding forty gallons of whisky, wine and brandy, said to have been seized at her home yesterday.

Prohibition Agent O'Leary and Officers Reed and Thompson stationed themselves in a hallway at the woman's home and greeted a score or more of fashionably dressed men and women, many of whom, they say, arrived at the place in limousines and expensive touring cars. The visitors were not arrested, but their names and addresses and the numbers of their automobiles were jotted down by the officers.

REFEREE TO HANDLE BOY CASES.

R. F. Gragg, Juvenile Court Clerk, to be Appointed to New Position Monday.

R. F. Gragg, clerk of the Juvenile Court, will be appointed referee, handling boys' cases, by Judge Weyl on Monday. The congestion of this court makes it imperative for the judge to have help. He sits in Juvenile Court and on Mondays and Thursdays goes to the County Hospital to try insanity cases.

The boys Mr. Gragg will handle will be those over 12 years of age. The Juvenile Court handles a great many boys and by sitting in as clerk of the court, Mr. Gragg has received the experience to fit him as referee. Dr. Miriam Van Waters is the referee of the girls' court. Judge Weyl passes on the reports of the referees.

The appointment of Mr. Gragg, authorized under the law, is an experiment, it is said. He has been in the employ of the county for a number of years.

Heavy Damages Against Espee Awarded Three.

After a trial lasting eleven days, a jury in Judge Myers's court last night returned a verdict awarding an aggregate of $45,000 damages in three combined suits against the Southern Pacific Railway for injuries resulting from the gasoline-truck accident last January in Huntington Park. The plaintiffs had been burned in the accident which resulted from a collision between an automobile truck and trailer loaded with 400 cans of gasoline, and a gas motor railway passenger car. The impact hurled large quantities of oil into the passenger car and it became ignited. One woman was burned to death.

The plaintiffs sued the railroad company and the Harris Truck Company, seeking $98,009.55 as damages for burns suffered in the accident. The awards of the jury were as follows: Margaret M. Billing, who had demanded $25,000, was awarded 15,000; Erma E. Robison asked $50,753 and got $20,000; T. D. Sayre, who sought $20,426.55, received $10,000.

JURORS IN FORGERY CASE FAIL TO AGREE.

MAN ACCUSED OF FALSIFYING BILLS OF LADING WILL HAVE RETRIAL.

The case against W. F. McShane, former president of the Sutherland Fruit Company, charged with forging and uttering false bills of lading involving the purported shipments of oranges and lemons over the Santa Fe, resulted yesterday in a mis-trial.

At 4 p.m. the jury reported to U. S. District Judge Trippet that it had been unable to agree, the body standing six to six, and on motion of Asst. U. S. Dist.-Atty. Dickson, the jury was discharged from further consideration of the case.

The case was placed on the calendar to be called September 8 to be reset.

It showed that the Peoples' Trust and Savings Bank of Riverside had lost $438,000 on false bills of lading handled by the Sutherland Fruit Company, which went into bankruptcy soon after the arrest of Mr. McShane, a year or more ago. It also showed that of the amount $300,000 had been made good by J. C. Odell's family. Mr. Odell was president of the bank when the money was secured in the summer of 1919.

The amount of the shortage was not disputed, but Mr. McShane denied that he had signed the bills of lading, although he admitted indorsing a number of them.

An effort made by the government to locate T. J. Kennedy, vice-president of the concern, was unsuccessful. According to Mr. McShane he may have signed some of the bills. He was traced to San Bernardino, thence to a point a distance away from that city, then to Los Angeles, and back again to San Bernardino. When Mr. McShane was arrested, Mr. Kennedy was taken into custody, but no evidence was presented against him before U. S. Commissioner Long, and he was discharged.

HEAD OF LOVE CULT INSANE?

Court May Decide Whether Redness is Madness.

Mme. Maida Lessing is Sent to Psychopathic Ward.

"Reverend" Neighbor Jailed; Convicted as Vagrant.

Whether being a "radical and fanatical Red" is evidence of insanity is a question that will come before the Lunacy Commission when the case of Mme. Maida Lessing, mentioned in an insanity complaint signed yesterday by Judge Weyl as "Mary Lessing," is called for arraignment on Monday.

The hearing of Mme. Lessing, said to be head of a so-called "love cult," with headquarters at "Mount Helios," Glassell Park, in the Justice Court on a charge of criminal syndicalism is set for completion today.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Fitts, who is prosecuting her, yesterday caused the insanity complaint to be issued. Patrolman Posner appearing as complaining witness. It is charged that she "printed and distributed through the mails, revolutionary literature, that she has a delirium that God has instructed her to do it, and that He will open all prison doors that may be closed against her."

CALLED DEGENERATE.

It is further asserted that "she refuses assistance of friends who would furnish bail and says God will release her. She believes in and advocates the abolishment of civil marriage and the private ownership of property."

It is also asserted that she is addicted to "degenerate habits which cause her mental deterioration."

Mme. Lessing, who has been in the County Jail, yesterday was taken to the psychopathic ward of the County Hospital. The complaint against her was issued by Sherman Smith, clerk of the Lunacy Commission, and signed by Judge Weyl.

JAIL "REV." COLE.

Rev. George P. Cole, self-styled priest of the American Catholic church, who held forth in a cottage near the shack occupied by Mme. Lessing, on "Mount Helios," was sentenced to 180 days in the City Jail by Police Judge Chambers yesterday.

Cole was convicted on a charge of vagrancy, following the testimony of two young men concerning acts that were said to have taken place at the cottage where Cole lived, and which adjoined the "love-cult temple," said by police to have been operated by Mme. Lessing.

GRAND JUROR FREED ON CONTEMPT CHARGE.

MAN ACCUSED OF SOLICITING LOAN FROM WITNESS IS REPRIMANDED.

After being reprimanded by the court, G. E. Toms, a county grand juror accused of contempt of court in a citation, was discharged yesterday by Judge Willis.

The court, in dismissing the citation, held there was not contempt, but that Mr. Toms was indiscreet.

"He had no business to have any conversation with any witness or any other person being investigated by the grand jury," said the court. "This applies especially to having any financial dealings with such a person. He is hereby censured and reprimanded.

"But it has not been shown that he is in contempt, and that citation is therefore dismissed. The same rule will apply in this case as in civil cases, and there is no preponderance of evidence. I have no idea that Mr. Toms has done anything wrong. Mr. Toms said a loan from E. W. Peck, a witness before the grand jury, would make no difference to him, according to Mr. Peck. And Mr. Toms was to have paid interest of 7 per cent. Besides, the investigated should not be the investigators."

Mr. Toms was accused of soliciting a loan of $350 from Mr. Peck, then a witness before the grand jury.

UNIVERSAL TO CLOSE DOWN FOR INVENTORY.

RUMOR THAT PRODUCERS ARE TRYING TO INCREASE HOURS DENIED.

Seizing an opportunity to take inventory and have a general clean-up before starting a new year's work, the Universal Film Company has shut down until September 1, it was announced yesterday.

According to an official of the associated film producers, Universal did not shut down because of the strike recently called by stage carpenters and electricians.

W. J. Reynolds, secretary of the Motion Picture Producers' Association, says that erroneous reports are being circulated in regard to the cause of the strike.

He declares that the public is being led to believe that the producers are trying to force longer hours upon the skilled workers when, as a matter of fact, he says, the producers seek only to reduce the pay $1 a day.

According to Mr. Reynolds, the producers are offering $7 for an eight-hour day, with time and one-half for overtime. This, he insists, is the downtown pay of skilled workers in the building trades.

MANSION IS ROBBED.

Thieves Get Jewelry, Leave Costly Rugs in Oak Knoll Home.

The palatial residence of Charles S. Eaton on Virginia Road, near Canyon Drive, in Oak Knoll, was entered early last evening by burglars, who took jewelry valued at about $400, but missed a collection of rugs valued at many thousands of dollars, according to a report made to the Sheriff's office.

Entrance to the house was made through a second-story window in the rear, while members of the family were away. The burglars left by the same route and abandoned several rods from the residence, an eighteen-inch safe which bore the marks of an unsuccessful attempt to open it. According to the report at the Sheriff's office, the safe contained no valuables.

LAW'S ARM LONG, MEMORY LONGER.

Armenian, Gone Year from America, Is Arrested on His Return Here.

If the arm of the law is not long enough its memory is.

In July, 1920, a check for $450 was stolen from Mrs. Mary N. Sanborn, a tourist.

Samson Der Mesropian, alias Mike Caremo, returned Saturday from his native Armenia, where he had been spending a year. He was arrested yesterday, and later Charles K. Oxnard was arrested. They were charged with forgery and grand larceny.

City and Pinkerton detectives had been waiting all that time for Mesropian's return.

GUARD CHIEF UNDER FIRE.

School, and divisional instructor of musketry to all officers of the Fortieth Division, Camp Kearny, as well as senior instructor to the Eighth Division, Camp Fremont, Cal. In these capacities I have trained nearly 1800 officers. It was one of my bitter regrets that I did not get a chance to go overseas, but I acceded to the commands of my superior officers.

I spent nineteen months with Gen. Funston, starting as a private, and I now stand ready to serve my country, in any capacity and to the best of my ability, at any time.

"As to the charge that I am or have been overfriendly to organized labor or any other class as material for the National Guard I absolutely deny it. I stand for the laws of the State and the country, and expect to uphold them in every respect, and so told many persons who joined the National Guard. Every statement made in the affidavit you say was made against me is false in toto.

"My entire past was gone over before I became a senior ranking major. I stand ready to submit to any test of loyalty or efficiency or to satisfy any person or organization as to my sincerity and patriotism. I am sorry these charges were not brought in a manner that would have given me an opportunity to make a defense before they were brought to the Governor's attention."

In passing sentence on Maj. Kirk and the other defendants in the case in 1912, Judge Sloane, then trial judge, said he considered the defendants guilty not so much of violating the San Diego city ordinance as of a conspiracy to defy constituted authority.

In 1917, in his letter to the military authorities regarding Maj. Kirk, Judge Sloane wrote that, with this one exception the soldier's record was good, and his attainments exceptional. Even in 1912, wrote Judge Sloane, Kirk was acting conscientiously. In a personal letter to Maj. Kirk, he wrote:

"I want to assure you of my entire confidence of your integrity and ability and of my willingness to certify to the same, and if there is anything further along this line, be free to call upon me."

The attempts of the Socialists, I.W.W. and other radicals to break the San Diego city ordinance in 1912 brought into that city a horde of radicals who filled the jails and in other way harassed the authorities.

UP TO BORREE.

The matter has been turned over by the Governor to Adjt.-Gen. Borree, who is conducting the investigation. Gen. Borree came to Los Angeles several days ago and it is understood that during his visit here he took up various phases of the case. He conferred with Gov. Stephens, but no statement was forthcoming from either official following this conference.

Included in the documents laid before the Governor by the Merchants and Manufacturers are a copy of the indictment returned against Kirk in San Diego, a copy of the subsequent Sheriff's commitment to the San Diego County Jail, a resume of the testimony heard in the case by Judge Sloane and a copy of matter contained in an affidavit made here by an investigator who says he secured from Maj. Kirk certain statements in the guise of an applicant for a commission in the local National Guard.

FEDERAL INDICTMENTS.

Two Charged With White Slavery, One as Concealer of Chinese.

After returning three indictments, the Federal grand jury adjourned yesterday until Friday afternoon, September 9. The following were indicted: Lawrence Gregg, charged with bringing Rose Lewis from Salt Lake City to this city for an immoral purpose; David Peralta, violation of the Mann Act in bringing Refugio Castro from Mexico to El Centro for an immoral purpose, where Peralta is now in the jail; Estaquita Rosas, concealing two Chinese aliens.

What America Thinks Shelving the Bonu

The loud protests in various newspapers against reburying the American bonus in the files of a Senate Committee, gives strength to the belief of Secretary Washington Herald that the matter is merely postponed, not defeated, and "is as if already acted upon." Thus we find a Western editor crying "shame and disgrace" the "fickle and unappreciative," Mammon-worshiping nation which cannot out of its sources do for its soldiers what Great Britain, Canada, New Zealand, Australia, France, gium and Italy have done for theirs; which will not compensate the men who fought fered and bled for $1.00 a day while shirkers at home were getting $10.00 a day and its of war-time business were making 23,000 new multimillionaires!

Strong as the support of the bonus plan is among politicians and former soldiers public in general, says the Philadephia North American, seems to regard it with dis favor, and since Secretary Mellon and President Harding have spoken, approval of the sition and editorial indorsement of their arguments have appeared on every hand.

Both sides of this bonus question as shown editorially by the leading newspapers country, are presented in a striking article in this week's LITERARY DIGEST—July 30th.

BOND BROKER JAILED AS STOCK EMBEZZLER.

FORMER CUSTOMS SURVEYOR AT ATLANTA UNABLE TO FURNISH BAIL.

Embezzlement of $10,800 in stocks of the United States Steel Corporation is charged against William F. Tebbetts, a local bond broker, formerly Surveyor of Customs at Atlanta, Ga., in a complaint issued yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. McClelland. Mr. Tebbetts was arrested yesterday by Constables Thomas and Hayes and lodged in the County Jail, after he was arraigned before Justice Hanby.

It is charged that Mr. Tebbetts received 115 shares of the steel company, valued at $9800, from W. J. Dodd and twenty shares of the same company, valued at $1600, from Kate E. Patton, all on last June 10, and converted the same into cash. It is charged in a third count that he appropriated the $9800 to his own use, and two of the first counts charge him with converting the stock into his own use.

According to Mr. McClelland, the defendant was to have raised $20,000 on the stocks mentioned and others, and then buy stocks on the market at a 90 per cent margin. It is charged he used the money for himself before doing this.

Tebbetts appeared before Justice Hanby with his attorneys, Paul Schenck and Richard Kittrelle, and bail was fixed at $10,000, which was furnished. Hearing was set for August 17.

INCOMES ABOVE AVERAGE.

Internal Revenue Collector Carter has just received a copy of a pamphlet regarding income and income taxes paid throughout the United States for 1919, and there are some interesting statistics involving California as compared with the rest of the United States.

The total population of the United States is 106,021,431, and that of California 3,426,861, or about 3.2 per cent. The income-tax returns submitted for 1919 by residents of California were 5 per cent of the total in the United States, and the percentage of net income received by residents of California is 4.94 per cent of the total income received. This puts the State well above the average and shows that residents of California are as a whole more prosperous than those living elsewhere.

The total amount of income tax paid by residents of California is 3.6 per cent of the total paid throughout the United States. This is a lesser percentage and shows that while a large percentage of the total population of this State makes incomes large enough to be taxable, there are fewer large unwieldly incomes. This indicates a more equitable distribution of wealth here than elsewhere in the United States.

For 1919 there were sixty-five persons in the United States whose income was more than $1,000,000, compared with sixty-seven for 1918.

LE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Siefert Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pottsville, Pa.—"I suffered with female trouble for four or five years and was very irregular. I was not fit to do my work at times and took medicine from a doctor and got no benefit. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and took it and got all right. I gained twenty pounds and am now able to work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and they use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. SALLIE SIEFERT, 313 North Street, Pottsville, Pa.

The everyday life of many housewife is a continual struggle with pain. There is nothing more trying than the ceaseless round of household duties and they become doubly hard when some female trouble makes every bone and muscle ache, and nerves all on edge. If you are one of these women do as Mrs. Siefert did, but profit by her example and be restored to health.

Whitman May Test New Law if Contract Approved.

Feeding of Hogs in Tejunga Wash is Protested.

The City Council will meet at 10 a.m. today in special session to settle temporarily the garbage disposal problem and to provide for the handling of the waste material after midnight tomorrow. It is expected that the Council will either formally approve of the contract awarded July 1 to G. W. Whitman and of the $75,000 bond, which Mr. Whitman must file this morning, or in the event of the failure of Mr. Whitman to file a satisfactory bond or to convince the Councilmen that he can satisfactorily dispose of the garbage, they have no course of action remaining but to instruct the Board of Public Works to seize the plant of the Pacific Reduction Company on Monday morning and operate it.

John P. Steele, representing Mr. Whitman and his associates, told the Councilmen yesterday afternoon that it is expected to be able to file this morning either a satisfactory bond or $75,000 cash, and he said that Mr. Whitman would dispose of the garbage at the plant of the Pacific Reduction Company.

BRIEF ARRANGEMENT.

The temporary arrangement entered into yesterday between Mr. Whitman and the Pacific Reduction Company extends only for three months and under the option signed yesterday afternoon, Mr. Whitman will pay the Pacific Reduction Company $16,000 a month to dispose of the city's garbage. If the Whitman contract and bond are approved by the City Council, then Mr. Whitman plans to contest in the courts the constitutionality of the ordinance recently passed by the Board of Supervisors prohibiting as a criminal offense the feeding of garbage to hogs in the unincorporated parts of Los Angeles county.

The specifications under which the Whitman bid of 96 cents a ton for the garbage was made, called for feeding the material to hogs. The Whitman interests first secured land near Montebello, but as the result of action taken by the Board of Trustees of that city prohibiting a garbage-feeding hog ranch in that city, the Whitman syndicate leased a 60-acre tract near Baldwin Park. Before work had begun there to build the feeding pens, the people of Baldwin Park and surrounding San Gabriel Valley towns arose in protest against the re-establishment of garbage-feeding hog farms in that section, following the ousting of them and grand jury action in 1921.

ORDINANCE ADOPTED.

The Supervisors took heed of the protests of the county and adopted a prohibitory ordinance, which takes effect on August 5, and which, if held valid by the courts, will make it impossible for the Whitman interests, or any other contractor to feed garbage to hogs in Los Angeles county, outside of the cities. Mr. Steele explained to the Councilmen who met yesterday afternoon in conference, because of the gravity of the situation with which the city is faced, that Mr. Whitman and his associates are having difficulty in obtaining a bond, as the bonding companies feel the position that they could not hold Mr. Whitman or anyone else to feed garbage to hogs, which is an illegal act in violation of the recently enacted county ordinance.

Councilman Musbet at yesterday's meeting of the City Council urged immediate action to handle the garbage after midnight on Sunday so as to prevent the placing of the health of the people of the city in jeopardy. President Criswell admitted that the city was "in a jam" over the garbage disposal matter, and for that reason a special session of the Council was ordered to be held this morning.

FINANCIAL BAR.

The Pacific Reduction Company was represented at yesterday's meeting of the Council and at the conference yesterday afternoon by President K. J. Neville, W. S. Lister of Cleveland, O., and Attorney John R. Kelby. President Neville told the Councilmen that in the event of the failure of the Whitman interests to make good on their contract, the company would not be financially able to continue to handle the city's garbage output on and after Monday. If the Whitman contract and bond are accepted today, the city's contract with the Pacific Reduction Company is automatically terminated at midnight tomorrow. If a surety within the county organized, the Whitman interests will have been placed in the position of continuing their temporary rental arrangement with the Pacific Reduction Company or forfeiting the $75,000 bond or cash. It is certain that the people of the county will back up the Supervisors in their efforts to secure a favorable decision from the courts, declaring valid the ordinance of the Supervisors.

VAN NUYS PROTEST.

The Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce through Secretary W. E. McClary, protested to the Board of Supervisors yesterday against the proposed establishment of a hog ranch in the Tejunga Wash in the San Fernando Valley. The letter stated there was a large population "within easy smelling distance" and that in flood times the wash is swollen with water and garbage would be distributed as far as the southern portion of the territory. Before any steps are taken toward the establishment of such a hog ranch, the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce desires to confer with the board.

Complaints are being received by the Supervisors from citizens in Pasadena and Long Beach particularly that their garbage is not being moved because of the ordinance soon to take effect. Contractors are afraid of moving the garbage and no new contracts can be let. The Supervisors are of the opinion that the garbage question will take care of itself.

LARGEST BUDGET FOR SCHOOLS IS ADOPTED.

THIRTEEN MILLION IS FINAL FIGURE AGREED UPON BY EDUCATION BOARD.

In order that the expected increase in the attendance in the city schools may be taken care of, the Board of Education yesterday adopted a budget for the coming year which is more than $2,000,000 in excess of that for 1920-1921. The estimated expenditure is $13,150,573, which will take care of an expected enrollment of 128,000 children.

The huge sum, greater than that spent by any city in the West for elementary and high school education, was decided upon after the board carefully surveyed the population estimates for the coming year. It was stated that the increase will but take care of an ordinary growth in population.

There will be an increase in the amount paid as teachers' salaries of $1,798,267, making the total for instructors $9,817,456. The administration of school affairs will cost $59,979 more than last year, the 1921-1922 figures being $310,643. The salaries of janitors will be $442,300, an increase of $60,388. All other salaries for the operation of the system will total $397,554, which is $140,562 greater than for the preceding year.

The maintenance cost of the schools will increase $162,362, making the total for that item $1,454,076. A decrease of $1,405,644 in the amount of the building fund is the only item that is smaller. This brings the expected expenditures for new buildings down to $1,326,572. With the $341,605, which will be carried over from last year, the amount to be asked from the county is $13,808,972, an increase over last year of $3,008,592.

The enrollment for the year 1920-1921 was 111,500 and it was estimated by school officials that the schools will have an increase of at least 15 per cent in attendance, which will make a total enrollment of 128,000 for the new term. The budget was prepared by C. F. Lenz, auditor for the board.

POLICEMAN INJURED.

Capt. Spellman Falls Overboard, Hit by Gangplank at Harbor.

Police Capt. W. L. Spellman fell overboard and narrowly escaped drowning when the gangplank from the wharf to the steamer Frank D. Stout gave way and precipitated him into the water as he was attempting to board that vessel at the harbor yesterday.

Swimming to nearby piling, Capt. Spellman held on until a rope was thrown to him. This was made doubly difficult by the fact that immediately after he fell into the water the gangplank crashed down upon him, inflicting injuries.

His physician stated, after he had been taken to his home in the Astor Apartments at the harbor, that Capt. Spellman probably will not be able to return to work for ten days or two weeks.

POTATO GAMBLE TOLD IN "TIMES."

How Growers Win and Lose in Great California Game Described.

"Poker" Davis in his palmiest days was no greater gambler than is the Southern California farmer who raises spring potatoes. In tomorrow's Farm and Tractor Section, illustrated by the rotogravure process, the tale of the great potato gamble, and the counting of chips after the farmer "cashes in," is told. How some farmers raise 150 sacks to the acre, and rake in a huge pile of chips on the potato roulette board, and how some raise but fifteen sacks and quit losers, is described.

The experience of California "hen fruit" on the London market is told by Henry W. Kruckeberg, and rotogravure illustrations on his page also show the culling of hens on Southern California ranches by an expert.

"Better Beef, Quicker Beef, and More of It," is the title of an illuminating article, describing a wonderful cattle ranch in San Diego county, owned by D. H. Ogden, veteran cattleman. Photographs showing some agricultural developments in the great Salt River Valley, Arizona, are included in this number.

Read about the new Hubam clover, described by Robert W. Hodgson, and view photographs showing precocious vineyards and peach orchards in the San Joaquin Valley, in the Farm and Tractor Section, tomorrow.

PORT NOTES.

Several thousand cases of eggs were included in cargo shipments leaving Los Angeles Harbor last night on the Admiral Evans, Rockefeller and the S.S. Rotterdam and London. The eggs are being carried in refrigeration space at a specially regulated temperature, and will be placed on the market as fresh eggs only eight days from now upon their arrival at London.

Los Angeles Harbor is the shipping point upon the Pacific is the fact that the large freighter brought a heavy shipment of eggs upon her arrival here from the Hollands ports. The freighter brought Chinese eggs from the Orient. The eggs will be distributed all the way around the world from the Los Angeles Harbor.

The Luckenbach Line freighter Andrew F. Luckenbach sailed for New York yesterday afternoon after having general cargo aboard, among which was included 200 tons of beans, and other products brought from San Diego yesterday on the Vaquero for trans-shipment on the Andrew F. Luckenbach to the east coast.

The Norwegian tank steamer San Joaquin arrived here yesterday from Tacoma via the Panama Canal, to load a full cargo of 70,000 barrels of oil for Antofagasta, Chile. The San Joaquin is chartered to the Union Oil Company.

The White Pyper Line steamer Humboldt arrived from San Francisco yesterday with passengers and freight, re-establishing her regular service between the harbor and San Francisco. The Humboldt stays in at Santa Barbara both northbound and southbound.

Five steam schooners with full cargoes of lumber are expected at the harbor today or tomorrow. The vessels due are the William Dollarus, from Aberdeen; Prentiss, from Albion; and Halco, from Monte and Vanguard, from Eureka.

Hundreds of Japanese fishermen, cannery workers and ranchers have registered here during the last few days with the final registration day only forty-eight hours off. Japanese have protested against all aliens registering under the new State law.

Next to the Japanese in numbers are Austrian aliens, hundreds of whom are engaged in the fishing industry here, mostly outnumbering the Italians, who at one time controlled the fishing industry. Aliens registrars reported a great deal of illiteracy among the Austrians, although a resident of the United States for eight years, one 29-year-old Austrian fisherman was unable to write his name and had to affix his thumb print to the certificate.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Public Utilities in Strong Position; Some Arizona Financing; Curb Exchange.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

In the readjustment of the investment banking business no fact stands out with stronger emphasis than the one which shows the excellent technical position of public utility securities.

People must have electricity and gas and transportation, and adverse conditions which affect other industries do not have the same effect upon public utilities.

In Los Angeles the future has been partially discounted by the bringing out of several important issues the proceeds from which will go into development work.

Southern California is destined to be the workshop of the world, made so very largely through the cheap power which is to be harnessed as the ambitious programs of such corporations as Southern California Edison, Pacific Gas and Electric, Southern Counties Gas, Los Angeles Gas and others are carried out.

Another step in its great program of extension and development has been taken by the Edison company. The State Railroad Commission has authorized the sale of $6,000,000 of its general and refunding mortgage bonds, proceeds of which will be used in reimbursement for construction work done on development of additional water power. Since the first of the year the company has brought into service its Kern River No. 3 plant of 42,000-horsepower capacity, an additional unit at Big Creek No. 2 of 20,000-horsepower capacity, and this week Big Creek No. 3 plant of 30,000-horsepower capacity has come into operation.

"The proceeds of these bonds," said Vice-President A. N. Kemp, "will be used in part to finance new construction, but close to $4,000,000 will be used in the liquidation of current indebtedness incurred on account of construction work done. Our stock sales have been continuing at so large a scale as to provide from that source alone sufficient funds to meet construction requirements during the last four or five months, and the additional cash realized from the sale of these bonds will still further strengthen the company's cash position.

"We now have over 35,000 investors in Edison securities, which places our company well to the fore among those corporations of the United States having a large number of stock and bondholders, such as the Pennsylvania Railroad, United States Steel Corporation and others."

Both gross and net earnings of power companies on the Pacific Coast are showing good increases over last year. Growing population and increase in domestic consumption, together with more stable general business conditions than have obtained elsewhere, have helped to develop this satisfactory situation.

ARIZONA FINANCING.

When a party of Los Angeles bond men trekked across a few of the burning sands a couple of months ago and inspected the basis for some Arizona financing, afterward deciding that this was a phase of the investment business properly belonging to this center, the news was received with some misgivings. Not that there was a thing in the world wrong with the security itself, which was A-1, but wholly because of the fact that Arizona was upon a financial sidetrack, somewhat oppressed by cotton and copper market conditions and her offerings practically unknown to Southern California investors.

At that time and after careful investigation, Trade Talk undertook to say in effect that this type of financing meant the opening of a new and very attractive market to Los Angeles investors, and that there was no apparent reason why the needs of Arizona corporations should not be met here more properly than in the eastern centers to which they had heretofore been turning.

That this viewpoint was not strained seems evident in the announcement made yesterday that the books on one of these issues—$1,500,000 for the Babbitt Brothers—have been closed, and that in the face of the quietest market of many months the bonds were accorded a welcome by local investors which led bankers to assert that the financial influence of Southern California has been materially strengthened.

At the office of Hunter, Dulin & Co. it was said that the fact that local capital is able and willing to undertake the financing of Arizona enterprises is an encouraging criterion of the healthy state of the investment market here.

The average individual sale of the Babbitt bonds is said to have been around $2000.

CURB EXCHANGE RESIGNATIONS.

Differences which have been brewing for some time in the internal affairs of the Los Angeles Curb Exchange came to a head yesterday when the resignations of H. N. Willard, Young & Co. and Byron & Co. were received and accepted, with several others to be acted upon today.

The Curb Exchange was organized about three months ago in order to establish a market and give clearances to stocks which are not listed upon the regular exchange.

Bertram D. Lackey was elected president and announced a determination to keep the spirits of the new organization clean and to conduct its business upon the square-deal principal.

Shortly afterward the stock market entered a decline, from which it has not yet recovered, and the curb, in common with other dealers, fell upon lean days. Differences of opinions and methods of operating are said to have cropped up, resulting in the present readjustment.

In discussing these differences President Lackey yesterday made the following statement:

"There has for some time existed an element of members, several of whom have clearly stated to the board of governors their dissatisfaction at the small rate of commission authorized to be charged customers for execution of their buying and selling orders, claiming that before the organization of the exchange they were able to secure from customers on trades in unlisted stocks profits far in excess of the authorized rates of commission established and adhered to by the exchange.

"The more conservative members of the exchange, however, welcomed the elimination of such dissatisfied members, believing that the small commission charged was adequate and maintaining that volume of business and satisfied customers is the only firm foundation on which a lasting and permanent exchange could continue to merit the patronage and confidence of the public.

"The buying public has demonstrated its appreciation of the Curb Exchange, realizing that they are able at all times to secure accurate quotations on stocks offered for purchase or sale rather than being dependent upon the advertised prices of unscrupulous brokers and promoters whose selling prices are often far above the active market, which market is now definitely determined by daily public call of the exchange."

BUSINESS NEWS.

The Eighteenth Amendment is definitely increasing the per capita consumption of coffee in the United States, according to S. M. Newmark, president of Newmark Brothers, one of the largest coffee importers in Southern California.

Iced coffee has been seized upon by the public as a delectable hot weather substitute for the mint julep of reminiscent and happy memory, and an unusual demand for coffee of the better grades is apparent at the present time.

"Because of this fact, the coffee market is less a buyer's market than it has been at any time during the last six months," said Mr. Newmark yesterday.

In order to satisfy the demand so evident in the United States for this better grade coffee, the National Coffee Roasters' Association has taken up with the United States consular service the idea that information and instruction about the better care of coffee should be imparted to the growers of the different coffee-producing countries. In this way only can increased supplies of the higher priced coffees be had.

With the Central American crop marketed, the upward trend of coffee prices is now clearly evident. Certain coffees have advanced since December from ¾ to 1 cent a pound and the better Brazilian product is now bringing almost a cent a pound more than it did at the beginning of the year.

Mr. Newmark attributes this hardening of the market partly to the return of the normal European demand, Belgium, for example, having bought over 700,000 bags of Brazilian coffee this year, and partly again to prohibition.

FOOD IN STORAGE.

An increase of nearly 50,000 cases of eggs as against last year's receipts in local storage warehouses is shown by figures available at the Los Angeles Produce Exchange.

F. M. Hudson, secretary of the exchange, attributes the increase to the improved storage facilities in Los Angeles this year, and pointed out that local dealers in Petaluma and northern eggs, who formerly left them in storage in San Francisco and other points near the point of production, are now shipping them to Los Angeles for storage.

The egg market, despite these increased supplies, is firm here, and showed a 1-cent advance this week. Prices, however, will have little chance of reaching the level set last year, because eggs which went into storage at the low prices set early this season are bound to force the level of fresh eggs down at least 15 cents a dozen.

Storage butter supplies have decreased materially. The present reserve is 652,660 pounds as compared to 983,340 pounds on hand a year ago. Last year's supplies however, were abnormally heavy, as the northern condensed milk companies turned great quantities of their milk and cream into butter on account of the weak condensed milk market. With better conditions this year, the northern condensers have returned to their own market, with the result that local butter reserves are commencing to take on a more normal aspect.

Warehouse reports show that the amount of cheese on hand last year, 636,159 pounds, has been increased nearly two and one-half times this year.

The probable cause for this big jump may be laid at the door of local importing dealers who last year preferred to leave their eastern and northern cheese in storage at the points of production in Wisconsin and Oregon, and who now have decided to bring their stocks to Los Angeles in anticipation of a heavier local demand this year.

Another cause of increase is the large quantities of Swiss cheese on hand. As Swiss cheese requires a two-year storage period before it is ready for the market, the increase in the supplies will naturally keep the warehouses filled for some time to come.

DETROIT RAILWAYS.

Stephens & Co. is offering $4,000,000 Detroit United Railway first mortgage collateral 5 per cent sinking fund gold bonds, and report that their sales of this issue to date have been beyond expectations.

These bonds are the direct obligation of the Detroit United Railways and are specifically secured by the interurban portion of the line, which covers 202 miles of the most important and valuable properties of the system.

The gross earnings of the company in 1920 were $28,986,228, and the net earnings amounted to $4,404,768, or over 2.3 times the annual interest charges.

FEDERAL RESERVE.

The Federal Reserve system ratio of reserves to deposits and Federal Reserve note liabilities combined has increased from 62.5 to 63.4 per cent. Gold reserves increased about $23,000,000 for all the banks, and $259,000 in the Twelfth district of which Los Angeles is a part.

Other totals made public in the comparative statement of condition at the close of business July 27 released yesterday are:

Bills on hand $143,549,000; earning assets, $153,644,000; total resources, $405,769,000. This compares with $412,309,000 for the week ended July 20 and $417,081,000 for the corresponding week in 1920.

Total deposits in this district are $118,002,000 as against $115,417,000 the week before and $124,669,000 last year. Circulation of Federal Reserve notes dropped from $234,178,000 last week to $229,464,000. A year ago it was $236,686,000.

Discount rates on all classes of paper 5½ per cent effective July 25.

LOS ANGELES STOCKS.

The market yesterday was featured by moderate activity in Goodyear preferred which maintained the price of 53.00 which has been the prevailing level for the week. There was a softening towards the close which was 51.50 bid @ 53.00. General Petroleum was strong at 94.00. The balance of the trading was scattered. In the mining list United Eastern was traded at 2.32½ and Tom Reed at 75 cents. Southern Counties Gas has been listed and yesterday was quoted 99.00@100.00.

STATE FINANCES.

State Treasurer Friend William Richardson reports that $5,282,318.04 was paid out last month, while only $2,161,137.06 was received. Among the larger payments were:

Compensation insurance investments	$ 804,000.00
Highway bonds and interest	1,216,000.00
Third highway	1,339,000.00
Motor vehicle	847,000.00
San Francisco harbor bonds and interest	180,000.00

TICKER TICKS.

Bethlehem Steel declares regular quarterly dividends on common stocks.

New York Federal Reserve Bank ratio advanced from 70 to 72.3 per cent.

President Grace, of Bethlehem Steel, says value of orders on company's books as of June 30 was $84,000,000, compared with $110,000,000 March 31, but showed marked increase over first quarter of the year.

Chairman Elliott of Northern Pacific Railroad, returning from an extensive trip through Pacific Northwest and Canada, reports general conditions better and feeling of optimism prevailing in sections visited.

New York Stock Exchange governors rule that brokers cannot pledge customers' securities above amount of debit balance, thus fixing loan limit on marginal accounts.

Average price twenty industrials 83.18, off 1.09; twenty rails 79.53, up .50.

THE WHITE SPOT.

Net sales by representative department stores in the New York district for June fell off 7 per cent from those of a year ago.

In Los Angeles they increased 2.9 per cent.

In New York June net sales were about 1 per cent below those of May.

In Los Angeles June net sales were 2.3 per cent above those of May.

FINANCIAL CONDITIONS.

A survey of financial conditions in the seven States composing this Federal Reserve district was announced yesterday from the office of John Perrin, chairman of the Board and Federal Reserve agent.

"This survey is based upon reports of condition of all banks, State and national. The study related primarily to conditions in the agricultural regions of the district and did not include the cities of San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, Los Angeles, Portland, Seattle and Salt Lake City.

As an index to the financial condition of a given area, there was chosen the ratio of total loans and investments of all banks in that area to their total deposits, and the various zones were then placed in three categories; the first including all districts where the ratio of bank loans and discounts to deposits was less than 80 per cent, and where financial conditions therefore may be considered "good" (colored blue on accompanying map;) the second including all districts where the ratio was between 80 per cent and 100 per cent, and where financial conditions may therefore be considered "fair" (colored yellow on accompanying map;) and the third including all districts where the ratio exceeded 100 per cent (where, consequently many banks were borrowing from the Federal Reserve Bank or from their correspondents,) and where financial conditions may therefore be characterized as "poor" (colored green on accompanying map.)

The first category, embracing districts where financial conditions were good, included the western halves of the three Pacific Coast States (Washington, Oregon and California,) the State of Nevada and the vicinity of Prescott, Ariz. (where financing of the principal industries, live stock and mining, is done chiefly by city, instead of country banks,) and small areas in the northern part of Idaho and Northwestern Washington. The total deposits of banks in this category were 54.9 per cent of total country bank deposits of the district, indicating that on April 28, financial conditions in over one-half the country districts were good.

The second category, embracing districts where financial conditions were fair, included chiefly the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys (where complete marketing of 1920 crops had not then been achieved,) and certain coastal sections in California where beans are grown, together with the fruit-raising sections of Washington and Utah. Total deposits of banks in this category were 34.8 per cent of total country bank deposits of the district; so that on April 28, financial conditions could be classed as fair to good in approximately 90 per cent (34.8 plus 54.9) of the country districts.

The third category, embracing districts where financial conditions were poor, included a broad area streaching from Eeastern Oregon and the dry farming country west of Spokane, Wash., through Central and Southern Idaho, Utah and Arizona (excluding the Prescott area.) Substantially similar reasons account for conditions in this zone; crop failures and unfavorable conditions for live stock in the years preceding 1920 and unwillingness or inability to market the products raised or harvested in that year, with the consequent inadequacy of banking capital to handle commercial and agricultural requirements which is now remarked in this area. Deposits of banks in this category, however, were but 10.3 per cent of total country bank deposits of the Twelfth District (which in turn were but 42.8 per cent of total bank deposits of the district,) indicating that, despite its geographical extent, the area where financial conditions were poor contains a relatively small proportion of the banking deposits of the district.

JAP OFFERS DEPRESS COTTON MARKET

FIRST PRICES UNCHANGED TO 4 POINTS LOWER; FUTURES STRENGTH AT MIDDAY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—Although the cotton and flour advances declined by one of the most severe breaks in the history of the cotton market, the bulk of the losses were recovered before the close today, and the market closed steady at the opening figures to 25 points lower. Liquidation was on a large scale, and the break was precipitated by a sudden cable from Japan offering cotton for sale at 25 points below the parity of the New York market. Offerings were also heavy from the South, and the market was demoralized for a time. Trade buying, however, was on a large scale, and the market recovered rapidly under the lead of the Wall Street interests. The committee probably will cease to exist for some time, owing to the existing conditions with a view to calling attention to matters which demand remedy from time to time.

CONFEREES END ALL BICKERING.

Agreement Finally Reached on Sweet Bill.

Senate Wins Out on Long Debated Amendment.

Measure Expected to Reach Harding Next Week.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, July 29. — The three-billing bickering over the Sweet bill for the relief of disabled veterans came to an end today. Complete agreement between the Senate and House conferees was announced after days of delay.

The conference agreement will be reported to the House Monday. Prompt ratification is expected and favorable action by the Senate probably will follow immediately. Unless some entirely unexpected obstacle intervenes the measure, in all likelihood, will be sent to President Harding by the middle of next week.

VICTORY FOR SENATE.

In the main, the conference agreement was a victory for the Senate. The chief point of difference between the two houses was the Senate amendment making the proposed Veterans' Bureau an entirely independent institution, responsible directly to the President. The amendment was retained, the House conferees agreeing to it with considerable reluctance.

Another important point scored by the Senate conferees was the retention of the Walsh amendment designed to liberalize the government's policy in the treatment of tubercular and mental cases among service men. Under the Walsh amendment claimants suffering from tuberculosis or mental disorders will be presumed to have contracted their disability in line of duty if the illness developed within two years after their discharge from service. In other words, they will no longer be required to await compensation until they can produce long lists of affidavits to prove the service origin of their disability.

HOUSE GAINS POINT.

The House conferees won out in their fight against abolishing the Vocational Training Board as provided by a Senate amendment. As the amendment stands now, only those students of the Vocational Training Board having to do with ex-service men will be merged with the Veterans' Bureau. The conferees also failed to leave the matter of hospital construction in the hands of the supervising architect of the Treasury Department, where it is now. There has been considerable criticism of the delays in getting hospitals constructed, but the committee of consulting physicians, headed by Dr. White, took the view that a transfer of authority now would only cause more confusion and loss of time.

The special Senate committee investigating the neglect of disabled women brought its hearings to a close temporarily and will begin at once the preparation of a partial report to submit to the Senate in response to the Walsh resolution. In view of the immense volume of testimony seldom contradicted, given before the committee regarding the inadequate care and treatment of ex-service men, the report in all probability will contain a scathing arraignment of conditions as they exist, however, undoubtedly will be improved rapidly under the Sweet bill. The committee probably will cease to exist for some time, owing to existing conditions with a view to calling attention to matters which demand remedy from time to time.

Senator Norris Improved.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The condition of Senator Norris of Nebraska, who collapsed in the Senate chamber after making a lengthy speech, was reported improved today and it was said that he planned to return to his seat Monday.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—Further unsettlement was manifested by the stock market today on renewal of liquidation and short selling of speculative issues. Rails and the more seasoned industrials were immune from pressure, but eased in the general reversal of the last hour.

New elements of weakness were uncovered by the aggressely bearish issues. Shippings, notably United Fruit and Mercantile Marine preferred were freely offered on adverse rate conditions, and the cheaper motors proved susceptible to reports of a slackening demand.

Chemical and paper specialties were sold to the accompaniment of lower prices for those commodities, together with labor disturbances. Various miscellaneous issues fell 1 to 2 points.

The more stable equipments made partial recoveries from midweek reactions, and further advances in prices of raw and refined rubbers infused firmness to the tire group, but a heavy tone ruled at the close. Sales amounted to 435,000 shares.

Call money held at 4½ per cent, upsetting the calculations of borrowers, who had hoped for renewals at yesterday's minimum rate of 3½ per cent. More time funds were available, however, at 5 3-4 per cent.

All leading foreign exchanges were lower; demand sterling falling a fraction under $3.56, with concurrent weakness in French and Belgian francs, also marks and guilders. Italian and Spanish rates hardened, but a sagging tendency marked the moderate dealings in bills to Czecho-Slovakia and Poland.

The bond market made further upward progress on enlarged operations, with foreign issues the chief features. The new French 7½s were especially strong, also Swiss and Japanese flotations. Liberties closed mostly at substantial gains. Total sales, par value, $14,500,000.

DIVORCE LID'S NOW OFF HERE.

Can Investigate Neighbor's Troubles if You Would.

Woman is First One on Hand to See Local Filings.

Veil of Secrecy Lifted After Lapse of Many Years.

Stamp! Stamp! Stamp!

"There goes another divorce filing. I would know that sound if I heard it in Egypt," yesterday said Miss Emily L. Shumway, affable dispenser of index information relative to divorce actions in the County Clerk's office. "There is no end to it," she added with a sigh. "And nobody seems to know what is wrong. I have studied the psychology of the divorce situation for years and am often tempted to write a treatise on the subject. According to the records, I am led to believe that lack of children is one of the basic causes of most of the divorce actions and that second to this and really as an outgrowth from it, love of luxury and excitement start the troubles that culminate at this counter. Children are the truest safeguard of society against family estrangements."

All divorce complaints, regardless of when filed, became public property yesterday. But no family skeletons rattled forth from the archives of the State, which has carefully guarded the secrets of divorce complaints since 1874. There was no wild rush of the public for information. Only one person applied yesterday, beside the usual run of attorneys and their clients directly interested in proceedings.

Mrs. Ella Jenkins was waiting when the doors opened at the County Clerk's office and signed for the perusal of Case B-5631, Dodd vs. Dodd. She was the only one who took advantage of the new ruling.

"I had my coat off and sleeves rolled up for a big day," said File Clerk George B. Smith, "but as far as I can see today has been no different from any other day. Perhaps there is a back-kick in the fact that any one who applies to inspect the complaints will have to sign for the papers. One party when asked to sign declined and walked away. I believe the only noticeable difference under the publicity procedure will be a cutting down of the citations of incidents in the complaints. The plaintiffs will rely on court testimony to establish the grounds for action rather than to recite the facts in complaints from now on."

Divorce complaints first go to Counter Clerk George W. McDonald, then to Miss Shumway, who indexes them in the big book, then to Superior Court Secretary Blakeley for assignment to a department and back to the County Clerk's office for filing by George B. Smith. If you want to see a complaint, ask for Miss Shumway, who will give you the index number of the action; give Mr. Smith this number and he will hand you the records in the case; sign for the folio and then you may sit down at a long table and peruse the subject to your heart's content.

Twenty-two divorce complaints were filed yesterday. Only four of the twenty-two couples have children. In only two cases was mention made of any community property. Cruelty, desertion and failure to provide are mentioned in all cases but four, in which simple charges of desertion are made, and two, which contain charges of habitual intemperance. Wives are plaintiffs in twenty of the cases.

CUT RATE TO GERMANY.

The cable rate to Germany over the lines of the Western Union have been reduced 6 cents per word for ordinary commercial messages, according to J. M. Green, city superintendent, thus making the cost 42 cents per word for full paid messages and 21 cents for deferred traffic. This decrease is effective August 1. Cable letter and week-end letter traffic to Honolulu has been increased to $1.90 for thirteen words for the cable letter and $2.40 for the week-end letter of twenty-five words. Additional word rates are 10 cents and 8 cents respectively.

POOR MAN'S COURT TO OPEN SOON.

Justice Hinshaw to Hear First Small Claims Case Next Wednesday.

"I shall feel like a knight of England in olden days when I preside next Wednesday over the first case to be heard in the small claims court recently established by an act of the Legislature," said Justice Hinshaw yesterday.

"Few persons know that the justices of the peace are supposed to be directly resultant from the early knighthood of England, and this poor man's court is, after all, only a return to the simpler forms of small claim adjustment. Knights, accompanied by their secretaries or squires, held court wherever petty disputes were encountered in their travels, hearing the evidence from both sides and rendering a verdict.

"Once established, the court will fill an urgent need of the community, reveal many persons who have evaded payment of small bills and on the other hand expand credits for merchandise up to a valuation of $50. As no attorneys are allowed in this small claims court, a heavier burden rests on the justice."

Of the first six applications filed thus far, only three were admissible, because the small claims court handles merely suits for money due of an amount not in excess of $50.

Justice Hinshaw estimates that there will be more than 3000 suits heard during the first year of this court. He will preside for the first month and then the duty will be rotated among the six justices at the Courthouse. These six men heard 15,000 cases last year, and it is believed that the addition of the new court will crowd the sextet closely.

SEEK CLEWS OF RUM RUNNING PLOT HERE.

OFFICERS START INQUIRY AS LIQUOR VANISHES FROM SHIP REACHING PORT.

In investigating the activities of certain vessels plying between Lower California and this harbor, customs officials and prohibition enforcement officers believe they may lay bare methods by which liquor has been smuggled into California and perhaps disclose a systematic and widespread plot that has been in operation for some time.

One vessel, which arrived a few days ago in Los Angeles Harbor from Ensenada, had a large quantity of liquor aboard when she left the southern port, the customs authorities are advised. When she arrived here none of the liquor was found. The customs officers believe the booze was sent ashore in a small boat at some point, probably near this port. The steamer made no stops between Ensenada and Los Angeles.

Prohibition enforcement agents for some time have been convinced that liquors in enormous quantities are regularly smuggled into this district from Mexico. They range in quality from the humble Mexican tequila to imported Scotch whiskies.

The watch kept on the border has prevented land smuggling in large quantities, the Federal agents believe, and secret agents have been placed in Mexican ports to see whether liquors have been loaded on ships bound for points in California.

INVESTIGATE STEAMER.

Boat From Ensenada Said to Have Evaded Port Regulations.

The local customs officials are investigating the steamer Sunset, that arrived here from Ensenada a few days ago, without complying with the regulations relating to the filing of a bill of health from the American Consul at the Mexican port and to the making of a report to the local collector within twenty-four hours arrival. The total penalty for the violation of the two laws referred to is $6500 and the libel of the boat, but just what will be done in the case is as yet undetermined.

Janitor Falls Four Stories; Seriously Hurt.

Fred W. Keys, 32 years of age, employed as a janitor at an apartment house at 722 South Alvarado street, was in a serious condition at the Receiving Hospital late yesterday as a result of a fall from a fourth-story window.

He suffered internal injuries, broken bones in both feet and one ankle, and a possible fracture of the spine, surgeons said.

Mr. Keys was engaged in washing the windows of an apartment on the fourth floor of the building, when he lost his hold and fell to the sidewalk below.

He was rushed to the Receiving Hospital in the University Police Station ambulance.

CAR KILLS JAPANESE.

Death of Gardener Hurled From His Bicycle is Instantaneous.

A Japanese gardener, whom the police identified as Hani Kigiro Kirami, 35 years of age, of 978 South Normandie avenue, was instantly killed yesterday when he was knocked from his bicycle by a West Eleventh-street car at Eleventh and Arapahoe streets.

Witnesses told the police that the Japanese was riding his bicycle south on Arapahoe street and failed to see the approaching street car in time to avoid being struck by it.

He was rushed to the Receiving Hospital, but surgeons there said that death had been instantaneous.

The body was turned over to the Japanese Undertaking Company by direction of Coroner Nance.

AUTO THIEF SUSPECTS.

Two Youths Landed Behind Bars After Being Halted by Shots.

Joseph and John Perigo, aged 18 and 19 years, respectively, who told the police they are brothers, were lodged in the City Jail yesterday by Officer Bert Massey, after he had fired two shots at the pair, whom he suspected of attempting to steal an automobile. They are held on suspicion of grand larceny.

Officer Massey discovered the two in an automobile and commanded them to stop, police reports show. They disobeyed his command and he brought their machine to a halt by firing shots in the air. The police say they found a revolver in a pocket of one of the youths.

DIVIDES WITH EX-WIFE.

Scenario Writer Wins Divorce; Urges Former Spouse Share in Property.

According to F. Kennedy Myton, a scenario writer, his wife, Anna A. Myton, showed her jealousy by falsely accusing him of going with other women. His mother testified in Judge Summerfield's court yesterday that her son grew morose and began to appear like an old man. Her daughter-in-law made things unpleasant for her when she visited her son's home, she said, and she was forced to terminate her visits.

A divorce was granted Mr. Myton and a division of the community property was made. Mr. Myton indicated that he desired his wife to have some of the property on account of the children.

AUDIENCE ENJOYS BENEFIT PROGRAM.

An enthusiastic audience greeted the vaudeville show given as a benefit by the Woodcrafters, an organization of young Americans, last night at Philharmonic Auditorium. That the talent for this performance was hand-picked was evidenced by the appearance of Miss Delilelis, former Winter Garden and Follies beauty. Prof. Robles offered pleasing selections on his guitar. The Luana Four ukuleled their way to favor and the Davis twins brought the house down with their novelty dances.

Fifteen acts in all were on the well-balanced program. One more performance is scheduled for tonight, and the entire proceeds from both performances will go to the Woodcraft fund.

IN BANKRUPTCY COURT.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the U. S. District Court yesterday, involving the affairs of Paul C. McAbee, said to be the owner of the capital stock of the Consolidated Canneries of California, praying that he may be declared a bankrupt. The petitioning creditors are the Los Angeles Can Company, with a bill of $68,391.09; Western Lithograph Company, with a claim for $6724.16, and the Western Wholesale Drug Company, a creditor to the extent of $2042.14. Acts of bankruptcy are charged against McAbee. The plant of the Consolidated Canneries is located at Porterville.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed in the same court by S. Floyd and Madge DeLong, druggists of Long Beach. Their debts are scheduled as $4995.51, and their assets as $2679, all of which are listed as exempt. J. B. Rowe, a jeweler of this city, filed a similar petition. He owes $1781, and has assets amounting to $405, which he lists as exempt. The assets consist of a jeweler's kit at 2001 Highland avenue. W. H. Hill, a Long Beach merchant, owes $16,754.55, according to a bankruptcy petition filed yesterday. The assets are $16,568.12, and of this sum he lists $5306 as exempt from the execution of the law.

GLOBE TROTTERS.

The leader, called the Globe Trotter, should have ready a list of geographical places with their poetical names, or their nicknames. If the players happen to be fairly familiar with these references, no explanation will be necessary; if not it is well for the Globe Trotter to locate the places, for the benefit of all playing the game. The Globe Trotter sits in front of the other players and begins this way: "During my travels, I spent some time in the City of the Violent Crown." He pauses, and if no one answers "Athens," he goes on "city in an ancient country famed for the genius and beauty and learning of the people," etc. When a player answers correctly, the Globe Trotter calls "change cars," and the player leaves the others and joins the Globe Trotter. If the next statement, "I visited the Land of the Midnight Sun" does not elicit the answer "Norway" the Globe Trotters continues, "a land in a peninsula of Northern Europe," etc. Any of the players who become Globe Trotters by giving the right answers have the privilege of recounting their imaginary travels in the same way.

Suggested place names: The Thunder of Waters (Niagara.) The Silver River (Rio-de-la Plata.) The Buckeye State (Ohio.) The City of Laughing Water (Minneapolis.) The Lone Star State (Texas.) The River of January (Rio de Janeiro.) The Hub of the Universe (Boston.) The City of Brotherly Love (Philadelphia.) The Empire State (New York.) The Land of the Rising Sun (Japan.) etc.

WHY

IS A COWARD CALLED A "POLTROON"?

[Copyright, 1921, by the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.]

At the time of the drafts during the Civil War and the World War there were a few men, who attempted to avoid compulsory military service by cutting off their trigger—or first finger, thinking that this would prevent their being mustered into the army. On no less an authority than that of Archbishop Trench, a deep student of English, we find that a similar practice was responsible for the introduction into the language of the word "poltroon" as a synonym for arrant cowardice.

"In olden times," states the Archbishop, "a self-mutilation of this kind was not infrequent on the part of some cowardly, shirking fellow, who wished to escape his share in the defense of his country. He would cut off his right thumb, become incapable of drawing a bow and thus useless for the wars. It was not to be wondered at that Englishmen should have looked with extreme disdain upon one who had so basely exempted himself from service, nor that the Latin phrase pollice truncus, 'one deprived of his thumb,' later shortened to the two-syllabled 'poltroon,' should afterwards have become a name of scorn affixed to every base and cowardly evader of the duties and dangers of life."

LOOT HOME OF FURS, JEWELS AND SILVER.

Jewelry, silverware and furs valued at about $3000 were taken by burglars who broke their way into the home of Mrs. Elda Parks, at 1405 Stanley avenue last night, according to a report made to the Hollywood police. Entrance was made through a rear bedroom window during the absence of Mrs. Parks, the report stated.
